Walkout Paralyzes U.S. Air Traffic

NEW YORK (AP)—Two big air lines ordered a complete shutdown today under the impact of a wildcat strike by a relatively small union. Operations of four other lines were heavily curtailed.

The staggering effects, building up from a four-day-old walkout of flight engineers, forced one of the most widespread stoppages in commercial aviation history.

American Airlines and Trans World Airlines, two of the nation's biggest air carriers, announced they will halt all flight operations at midnight. Most of their service already had been halted.

They sent furlough notices to most of their 44,000 employees —20,000 by TWA and 24,000 by American.

The tide of layoffs planned by three other airlines would bring the total to 74,000.

The union itself, the Flight Engineers International Union, has 3,500 members.

Its strike was aimed at six airlines, including most of the large ones: American, Pan American, Trans World, Eastern, National and Western.

Almost completely knocked out were their long-distance, big-plane flights, on which engineers were required.

Generally, service was cut to 15 per cent of normal, or less. Thousands of stranded passengers sought alternate means of transportation, or turned to other domestic airlines not involved in the strike.

The engineers are protesting a Feb. 6 decision by the National Mediation Board ordering them and another union, the Air Lines Pilots Assn., to hold an election for a single bargaining agent.

The engineers, outnumbered by pilots, claim the decision could wipe out their union — and possibly their jobs.

Last Saturday, the union itself ordered members back to work, but they spurned the order.

The layoffs — leaving thousands of persons not directly involved in the strike without pay — began yesterday after Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg disclosed he had been unable to resolve the dispute.

U.A.R. Asks Vote Condemning New Political Killings

COMBINED AP & UPI

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The United Arab Republic today asked an immediate vote on a three-power Afro-Asian resolution condemning the execution of six more followers of the late Patrice Lumumba in the Congo.

Twenty-four African and Asian nations met with Yugoslavia and Thomas Kanza, Lumumbist representative in New York, and decided upon a revision of a resolution previously submitted by Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic.

REQUESTS VOTE

U.A.R. Ambassador Omar Loutfi requested a vote as soon as possible on the revised measure condemning the "illegal arrests, deportations and assassinations" and requesting the pro-Western government of Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu "immediately to end these outrages."

The resolution demanded an immediate investigation and authorized the U.N. force in the Congo to resort to arms, if necessary, to put down disorders in the country.

News of the slayings was reported to the U.N. Security Council this morning by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

RUSS BLAME DAG

Hammarskjold's declaration touched off a storm of protests, and the council adjourned until this afternoon to permit consultations among the shocked delegates.

The Soviet Union quickly blamed the secretary-general for the new political killings.

Hammarskjold said he had received confirmation of the slayings from his special representative in the Congo, Indian diplomat Rajeshwar Dayal.

The slain men were among seven transferred earlier this

Kennedy Asks $5 Billion Education Aid Program

Kennedy Asks New Social Security Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy today proposed still another increase in social security taxes to provide more benefits in some cases and to extend coverage to additional workers.

The president sent to Congress legislation to make what he called needed improvements in the program.

The changes Kennedy proposed would require an increase of one-fourth of 1 per cent in social security taxes levied against both workers and employers.

Kennedy did not estimate the cost of the suggested tax increase.

It would be in addition to another increase in the same amount.

Kennedy recently proposed another increase of the same amount to finance the new administration's plan for health insurance.

Kennedy proposed:

1. Increase from the present $33 a month to $43 the minimum benefit payable.

2. Reduce the age at which men are eligible for retired benefits from the current 65 to 62. The benefits for those who claim them before age 65 would be reduced.

3. Change the proportion of time which an insured person must work under social security to be eligible for retirement benefits. This would be liberalized to provide that workers put in one quarter of each year, or three months, in covered work for each four quarters.

AUGUSTA FAIR
Life spanned century

Mrs. Fair Dies At 103; Oldest Marin Resident

Mrs. Augusta Fair, Marin County's oldest citizen who became 103 on her birthday last Dec. 8, died Saturday night.

Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1857, Mrs. Fair came to San Rafael seven years ago to live with her son-in-law an daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Marrin of 40 Fairway Drive. For the past two years she had lived at Ross General Hospital.

She outlived her husband, a veteran of the Civil War, by 45 years. A son, Harry M. Fair, an investment broker of Piedmont, died last year. Another son, Albert, also of Piedmont, surves.

Mrs. Fair's childhood was spent in Buck Creek, Ala., where her father owned a steel rolling mill. Her memories including the burning of the mill by retreating Confederates.

When she was 20, she met her husband in Oil City, Pa., where the couple lived in a home built by her husband. They operated a grocery store and grist mill.

After her husband's death in 1916, she moved to Toledo, Ohio. She then came to California, living in Piedmont until she moved to San Rafael.

Until two years ago, birthdays were a big occasion in her life. She regularly celebrated with cake, candles and visits by friends and grandchildren. They are eight grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren surviving.

Funeral services were held this morning at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Inurnment will be at the mortuary.

School Construction, Teacher Pay Included

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy sent Congress today a controversy-laden education program which would authorize 5.6 billion dollars in federal grants and loans to build public schools, boost teachers' salaries and increase college opportunities.

Key provisions of the President's special message would:

1. Authorize federal grants of 2.3 billion dollars for public school construction and teachers' salaries for the next three years, with each state deciding how much of the money would go for each function. The money would equal a minimum of $15 for every public school student in average daily attendance.

SCHOLARSHIPS

2. Establish a five-year program of state-administered scholarships for up to 212,500 "talented and needy" college students at an over-all federal cost of 577.5 million dollars. The average scholarship would be $700; the maximum would be $1,000. College and universities would get $350 a year additional for teaching each federal scholarship student. States would have to pass out the scholarships competitively "without regard to sex, race, creed or color."

3. Extend the college housing loan program for five years and provide 300 million dollars a year in loans for five years at 250 million dollars annually, to help build college classrooms, laboratories, libraries and related academic facilities.

SCHOOLS EXCLUDED

Kennedy, the first Roman Catholic to serve in the White House, made a special point of noting that parochial and private elementary and secondary schools would be excluded from the program.

"In accordance with the clear prohibition of the constitution, no elementary or secondary school funds are allocated for constructing church schools or paying church school teachers' salaries," the president said.

Kennedy, in an effort to win over lawmakers, fearful of federal control of schools, said "education must remain a matter of state and local control, and higher education a matter of individual choice."

TWIN GOALS

But he said the nation's "twin goals must be: A new standard of excellence in education—and the availability of such excellence to all who are willing and able to pursue it."

Federal aid to be provided for elementary and secondary

State's Share In Plan Would Top $50 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) —California would get well over 50 million dollars a year — at least 10 million a year more than any other state — to build classrooms or boost teachers salaries under President John F. Kennedy's recommendations to Congress today.

California would receive an estimated allotment of $52,733,321, or $16.82 per pupil in average daily attendance at public schools in the 1962 fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The figures would increase to $64,313,909 in federal aid in fiscal 1963, or $19.16 per student, and to $76,414,133, or $21.37 per pupil, in fiscal 1964.

Planners Hold Up On Rural Rezoning

The Marin County Planning Commission today postponed action on a proposed rezoning of all county land now under interim zoning after hearing a detailed description of areas not satisfactory for a "rural agricultural" zoning.

The proposed rezoning of the bulk of the interim residential areas would be "rural agricultural."

Action was continued to March 20 to give the planning staff time to consolidate information on these areas to be deleted from "rural agricultural" zoning and retype the proposed ordinance with descriptions of these areas and proposed classifications.

Planner B. D. Dobbs said the one-acre lot requirement of the rural agricultural district would not be satisfactory for many areas. Recommended, instead, was a single residential zoning for the San Quentin tract, Mill Valley Country Club area, Marshall area south, northwest of Camp Taylor around Jewel, area northeast of San Anselmo around the Short Ranch, unincorporated area at end of Fifth Street in San Rafael, Bolinas and Stinson Beach areas, and west of Fairfax in the Cascade Canyon and Bolinas Road area.

Limited agricultural zoning was recommended for the town of Tomales and San Geronimo Valley.

Dobbs noted that a master plan was being studied for the San Geronimo Valley, and he "fully expected" it to change whatever was doing at this time.

A San Geronimo Valley resident complained that she felt "something has been slipped in on us that we weren't prepared for. We were assured we didn't have a thing to worry about till the master plan was developed," she said.

Terra Linda's School Guard Due Insignia

Terra Lindans will present school crossing guard Alfred H. Newman with a royal purple armband bearing the words "Terra Linda Community Services District" at 8:15 a.m. tomorrow.

The group bought three armbands for $3.50 after Newman, who guards the crossing at Manuel Freitas Parkway and Las Gallinas Avenue, started wearing a uniform and badge identifying him as a special officer of the San Rafael Police Department. He is paid half by the City of San Rafael and half by the community services district.

"If they want him to wear the armbands, I told him to put them on," San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said today. "After all, he still doing his job and that's what counts."

Car Crash Near Petaluma Kills 4

PETALUMA (AP)—Four persons died today as two automobiles were demolished in a head-on crash on Highway 101 freeway just south of Petaluma.

The dead are William Durham, 51, of Menlo Park and his wife, Florence, 58; Deputy Sheriff Richard Lucas, 29, and his passenger, Miss Quanah Freitas, 26, both of Santa Rosa.

Three In House Safe As Auto Rams Building

Three persons were in the dining room of a house at 1462 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, watching "Crash Dive" on television last night when an out-of-control car smashed into the living room.

The driver, Joseph Teyerl, 21-year-old plasterer from the Presidio of San Francisco suffered cuts and bruises over the right eye and was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Police Officer Charles Hickey said, Teyerl was driving south on Lincoln Avenue at 11:50 p.m. when he lost control of his car, skidded off the road, tore down a tree and some bushes and rammed into the front of the house, tearing open a three-foot hole.

In the dining room watching television were Frank White, 51-year-old co-owner of Berg's Garage at 345 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, his wife, and a friend, Mrs. Barbara Dillon. White's four daughters and Mrs. Dillon's son, Michael, 2, were asleep upstairs.

The car careened across the lawn, missing by inches the White's dog, Spotty, tied on a leash at the corner of the house.

Teyerl was cited for driving without due caution. His passenger, George Lionel McLaughlin, 24, of 27 Hilcrest Drive, San Rafael, was not injured.

County Starts Survey Of Housing For Elderly

A survey of housing of the elderly in Marin was begun today by the Marin County Welfare Department as a first step toward a possible application for federal funds to build cottage homes and a nursing building at the county farm in Lucas Valley.

The federal project was suggested Feb. 2 by Chairman William D. Fusselman of the board of supervisors as a possible solution to the problem of what to do about the county hospital at the farm, which has been condemned by the state.

The survey is being made of elderly persons on county welfare roles, to determine where they are now housed and whether they might be interested in moving into such housing.

Betty L. Presley, welfare director, emphasized that the survey is for information only and that no moving of anyone is imminent.

The survey of welfare cases arises from a suggestion by Bert Klahn, executive director of the county housing authority, that other aged persons, as well as ambulatory cases being cared for at the county hospital, might be included in the federally financed housing.

Miss Presley said about 1,000 persons in the over-65 age bracket (over 62 for women) are on welfare rolls, but as many as 10,000 might be affected by the program. Men or women past 50 are incapacitated for work would also be eligible.

Klahn suggested persons interested in such a project write to the Housing Authority of Marin County, Box 336, Marin City.

Marin Likely To Remain Rabies Area

Marin County probably will be continued as a "rabies area" for another year.

The Region 4 rabies advisory committee of the California Department of Public Health will meet in Berkeley tomorrow to decide whether to continue Marin, Contra Costa and Alameda Counties as "rabies areas."

Because a rabid skunk was reported in Fairfax last Aug. 1, it is likely Marin will be continued under the classification, said Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

Classification as a "rabies area" requires that rabies inoculations must be given dogs before they can be licensed, and permits imposition of quarantine against pets roaming at large.

SPRUILIE BRADEN
Offers to testify

WILLIAM D. PAWLEY
Levels accusation

Ex-Official Denies Aiding Latin Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spruille Braden has challenged testimony by a former U.S. diplomat that Braden was fired as assistant secretary of state by former President Harry S. Truman after being accused of helping Latin-American Communists.

Braden, from his home in New York, offered to appear before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, where William D. Pawley testified in closed sessions last September, to deny the charges under oath.

REPLIES TO CHARGE

"I would be glad to have the results of the combined testimony of Pawley and myself forwarded to the Department of Justice if, in the judgment of the Senate, such disposition is warranted," Braden said.

Pawley's testimony was released yesterday.

In Bermuda, where he is on vacation, Truman's only comment was "Spruille Braden did a good job."

Braden said instead of being fired, he had been praised by Truman and awarded the Medal of Freedom, the highest U.S. civilian decoration.

SHOWN TO TRUMAN

Pawley, Miami businessman and former ambassador to Peru and Brazil, said he received an intelligence memorandum prepared by an Army undercover agent, took it to then Atty. Gen. Tom Clark and was summoned next day to the White House to show it to Truman.

At that time in 1947, Pawley was assistant secretary of state for American republic affairs.

In his testimony, Pawley pictured Braden not as a Communist but as a very ambitious man who "became involved in a program which appeared to be helpful to the Communist party in Latin America."

He said that later Braden blocked his appointment to replace Braden as Argentine ambassador and he was sent instead to Brazil.

"Pawley makes only one true statement," replied Braden, "that I blocked his appointment as ambassador to Argentina."

Braden said he had sounded a "long series" of alarms "as to the very dangerous infiltration of communism throughout the American republics," starting as early as 1945.

U.S. Embargo Paralyzing Cuba Industry

HAVANA (AP)—Despite the Castro's regime's boast that it has thwarted the U. S. economic embarga of last October, many Cuban industries are paralyzed by shortages of raw materials and spare parts or operating only sporadically, industrial sources reported today.

This is particularly true of enterprises formerly owned by Americans. 8he sources cited the once-flourishing tire industry as a prime example.

DRASTIC CUT

It used to turn out 10,000 to 12,000 automobile and truck tires a week. Now it produces a trickle of about 300. From one of four factories that used to be run by Goodyear, Goodrich, Firestone and U. S. Rubber.

This plant will close down its production line tomorrow because of acute shortages of raw materials, said an industrial expert.

"Unless some carban black and certain other essentials are found quickly, Cuba's tire production is a dead duck," this expert said.

Sources said Cuban authorities made desperate efforts to get substantial quantities of carbon black in Canada but failed. They turned next to Europe, seeking offers on both sides of the Iron Curtain without immediate result.

TO OTHER JOBS

Many former workers at the rubber plants have been transferred to other jobs. "We'll all be out cutting sugar cane if this keeps up," one said.

Washington banned U. S. exports of everything but food and medicine to Cuba four months ago in retaliation for Castro's virulent anti-United States campaign, his nationalization of almost all U. S. property in Cuba and his increasingly close ties with the Communist bloc. Cuba used to buy about 75 per cent of all its imports from the United States, or about 300 million dollars worth a year. This has been cut to a third.

The picture is the same in other plants seized from American or private Cuban owners, industrialists here said. Failure to get new raw material and spare part sources before existing supplies ran out is largely to blame.

Air Force Hails New Feat Of Spy Satellite

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — An experiment high in space has proved that American sky spy satellites will be able to maneuver in orbit—a major step ahead in their own defense.

A 2,100-pound Discoverer XXI satellite proved this Saturday by restarting its engine on radio command from earth.

Specialists see high significance in the development.

DIFFICULT TARGET

No longer will an orbiting satellite be an easy target for enemy ballistic missiles. It will, the Discoverer test indicates, be able to speed up, slow down or suddenly dart in a different direction.

Or it can change the shape, altitude or angle of its orbit around the earth. The way is paved, experts say, for a meeting of several satellites in orbit to form a way station for travel among the planets.

The Air Force launched Discoverer XXI at 2:58 p.m. Saturday, only 27 hours after Discoverer XX went into orbit with a 300-pound capsule. It will be orbited an unprecedented four days before ejection and a recovery attempt.

THOR MISSILE

A medium-range Thor ballistic missile, workhorse of the two-year-old Discoverer series, boosted No. XXI from the ground.

The engine of the second stage, an Agena B, spurted for two and one-half minutes to kick the 25-foot-long, five-foot thick satellite into orbit. This engine cut off, then restarted during the first pass around the earth's poles.

"It is another successful experiment to perfect the system for satellite stabilization and control in orbit," said Maj. Gen. O. J. Ritland, commander of the Air Force missile division.

The Air Force said it was the first time an Agena B satellite vehicle had been restarted in orbit.

KING SAVANG VATHANA
Asks for commission

King Of Laos Spells Out Neutral Policy

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—King Savang Vathana has proclaimed a policy of nonalignment for Premier Boun Oum's Western-backed government and asked three neutralist nations to confirm that Laos wants to live in peace.

The 54-year-old monarch read a declaration yesterday that could open the way for a new international approach toward ending the six-year-old internal struggle, in which the United States backs Boun and the Communists support a rebel faction based on the pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas.

The king said Laos would honor international agreements into which it has "freely entered," presumably including continued acceptance of the U.S. millions that finance the Laotian army.

"We hope that Cambodia, Burma and Malaya will form a commission which would come to Laos to establish that the country threatens no one and aspires only to peace," the king said.

Battle Looms On Countywide School Tax Plan

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A nip-and-tuck legislative battle was predicted today for a proposal which would require wealthy school districts to increase their local property taxes to help support poorer school districts in the same county.

"It's going to be real close," said Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton (D-Merced), who is sponsoring the controversial countywide tax plan in the legislature.

"I personally believe that we can get it past the Assembly, but I can't comment on the Senate," Winton said. "I have n't done any probing over there."

PART OF MEASURE

The countywide tax plan is part of the 780-million-dollar school apportionment bill drafted by the State Department of Education.

Under the plan, counties would levy a uniform tax of 60 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for elementary school purposes and 50 cents for high school purposes. The proceeds would be distributed to all school districts in the county on a per pupil basis.

Wealthy districts — those with relatively high assessed valuation and small student population — would get back from the county less money than they levied through property taxes.

TO POOR DISTRICTS

The money left over would go to poor districts in the county—districts with low assessed valuation and a large student enrollment. Statewide, the increased local property tax yield from the wealthy districts would amount to 21 million dollars.

The 21 million would be enough to raise school support programs throughout California.

The state would benefit: The increased support could be provided without any drain on the state's beleaguered treasury. This is thought to explain Gov. Edmund G. Brown's support

Poorer districts would benefit: They would get the increased support without having to raise local property taxes.

MOST OF ATTENDANCE

Education department officials estimate these districts contain 91 per cent of elementary school average daily attendance and 69 per cent of high school ADA.

The burden would fall on the wealthy districts, and on some of these it would fall heavily. To achieve the level of the increased support and to keep present capital outlay programs, they would have to put a large tax increase into effect.

The department of Education is now preparing charts showing district-by-district the potential benefits and adverse effects of the countywide plan. The charts will be distributed throughout the state at the end of the month.

Assemblyman Winton, who has requested an early hearing for the school apportionment bill containing the countywide plan, feels the plan reduces financial inequities and helps achieve "the basic aim of giving an equal opportunity for the children of this state to be educated."

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — King Baudouin today formally dissolved parliament and decreed new general elections for March 26.

The announcement followed conferences between the king and Premier Gaston Eyskens and Vice Premier Rene Lefebve. It was in line with the expressed wishes of the leaders of the ruling Social Christian-Liberal coalition and the opposition Socialists.

All three parties wanted new elections in the aftermath of the bloody and costly year end strikes against the government's austerity program.

It was wet in many parts of the North and South today and more cold weather nipped northern Midwest areas.

No severe storms were reported in the wake of damaging snow and ice storms which pounded Midwest sections, hitting hard at Iowa and Minnesota. More than 16 inches of snow fell in northwest Iowa and a heavy coating of ice crippled a number of Iowa communities.

More rain fell during the morning in the southeastern plains eastward through the lower Mississippi Valley and Gulf states.

RUSSELL'S SECRET WEAPON

Philosopher Pads Pants For Anti-Polaris Protest

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI)—When Bertrand Russell decided to stage a sitdown demonstration against American Polaris bases in Britain, he bent one of the great minds of his time to the problem of squatting on cold pavements.

Today the 88-year-old philosopher, considered by some to be the greatest living Englishman after Churchill, revealed his solution. Padded pants.

"Padding the seat of my trousers is an old schoolboy prank I learned a long time ago," said Russell. "It's very sensible, don't you think?"

Russell's wife, the former Edith Finch of New York, helped insulate the trousers that enabled him to sit three hours among 6,000 demonstrators outside the Defense Ministry in the opening of a civil disobedience campaign Saturday.

Despite his age, Lord Russell—he's an earl but seldom uses the title—was believed to have suffered no ill effects of his experience, but Sunday's Observer said he obviously was prepared to risk his health to the point of death to gain nuclear disarmament.

Russell is chairman of the Committee of 100 which is organizing a campaign against nuclear weapons in Britain.

He wants Britain to realize it is "defenseless," that it cannot rely on the American deterrent, that it should withdraw from NATO and assume leadership of "more responsible neutral nations."

He said Saturday's demonstration was only a "dress rehearsal" for more provocative demonstration to come—probably sitdowns at the Harwell Atomic research establishment and Aldermaston rocket base.

He seemed disappointed that no one was arrested.

"We don't want to go on forever being tolerated by police," he complained. "Our movement depends for its success on the immense importance of public opinion. We don't think we can create that unless we arouse authorities to more vigorous action."

Artist Completes Church Mosaics

Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff, Mill Valley artist, has completed six mosaics for the altar area of the new Greek Orthodox Church of the Ascension in Oakland.

The stone designs were executed on the floor of the soleus, the altar, the bishop's chair, pulpit and baptismal font.

Youth Goes Berserk After Jail Release, Seized Again

A 17-year-old San Rafael youth, arrested by sheriff's officers outside the San Rafael city limits for drunkenness Saturday night, was again arrested—this time by San Rafael police—less than an hour later, after he allegedly threatened his family with a knife.

He was booked in the county jail for investigation of assault and battery, disturbance, behaving in a rude and threatening manner with a knife, resisting arrest and drunkenness, and later transferred to juvenile hall.

The youth was arrested the first time at a dance at McNear's Beach for drunkenness. He was booked in the county jail at 10:42 p.m. and released to the custody of his mother.

After being driven home from the jail by his brother, the youth jumped out of the car and started pounding on the side of the house with his fists, the brother told police.

He then ran into the house and started throwing furniture around the rooms and against the walls. He pulled a knife with a six-inch blade out of a kitchen drawer and chased his brother and mother out of the house.

He also threatened his brother's wife, she said.

The brother drove to the San Rafael police station. When police arrived at the home, the youth ran to his bedroom and hid in bed. Police had to handcuff and forcibly carry the struggling youth to the waiting squad car.

Drunken Drivers Draw Sentences

Two drunken drivers were sentenced in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Harold J. Haley.

Edmond Russell Kunz, 39, of Route 1, Box 244-B, Mill Valley, must pay a $210 fine and remain on six months probation. Kunz was caught at Park Street and Bridgeway in Sausalito on Jan. 3.

Elinor Marie Wilson, 45, waitress of 647 Glenwood Avenue, Mill Valley, drew a $184 fine and six months probation. Miss Wilson was arrested on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Larkspur on Feb. 7.

New Moisturizing Colonaid Stops
CONSTIPATION DUE TO DEHYDRATION
without gag, bloat or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONAID possesses its great moisturizing capacity plus its stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital-proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation overnight. So, for positive relief from constipation, get amazing, moisturizing new COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Supreme Court Rulings Hit Beck, Costello

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today dealt legal blows to two former targets of Senate investigations — ex-Teamster Union president Dave Beck and imprisoned underworld king Frank Costello.

The court ruled 8 to 1 that the Justice Department can proceed with prosecution of Beck and five trucking employers on charges they illegally loaned the union chief $200,000.

It upheld by a 6 to 2 vote a denaturalization judgment against Costello, who is due to end a prison sentence for income tax evasion on July 26. Denaturalization often opens the way for deportation proceedings by the government.

In other action, today, the tribunal:

1. Reversed a $652,074 antitrust judgment against 24 eastern railroads which had been brought by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. The truckers contended that the railroads had conspired with the public relations firm of Carl Byoir and Associates in a publicity campaign to damage their interests among state legislators.

2. Dismissed a challenge of a Connecticut law which allows communities provide bus transportation for pupils of nonprofit parochial schools. It said the case offered "no substantial federal question."

3. Ruled that a Chicago man, Jack Monroe, has the right to bring a civil damage suit in federal court against city policemen who he claimed ransacked his home, abused his family and placed him under false arrest. They said he was entitled to do this under an 1871 civil rights statute.

4. Decided to look into the job security afforded workers under the government-approved merger of the Erie Railroad with the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western.

5. Upheld the contempt of congress conviction of Ohio labor leader William Presser, who refused to turn over Teamster Union financial records to the Senate labor Rackets Committee.

1 Candidate Remains For Novato Post

The City of Novato was down to one candidate today for the post of public work director.

In an executive session yesterday, councilmen interviewed the lone candidate, who is asking $709 monthly. The council had set $675 monthly as the beginning salary, hoping to get a registered engineer.

Two finalists were chosen for the posts by City Administrator J. Julius Baget after interviewing many candidates. The other candidate, asking $782 monthly, notified the city that he had taken another post.

Only three councilmen were at the executive interview session yesterday: Charles R. Johnson, John J. Angeloni and Everett Pozzi.

A council session on police and public works policy, scheduled for Tuesday, has been postponed indefinitely.

Novato Approves Home Adjustment

Novato city councilmen yesterday approved an adjustment for construction of four homes on Drakewood Lane by Harold Frazier, Inc.

The move came during the public part of a session which was then adjourned to an executive meeting to discuss hiring a public works director.

The adjustment will allow construction of the homes with garages within 15 feet of the front property line, instead of the required 25 feet. The problem had been continued from last Tuesday's council meeting.

Housewife, Child Hurt In Collision

A housewife and a small child both suffered seemingly minor injuries in a Highway 101 collision near Black Point cutoff last night. Both were undergoing precautionary medical checks today.

Laurain M. Wahlquist, San Francisco YMCA executive secretary living at 126 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley, halted his northbound car as the signal light changed at the intersection. Mrs. Jean D. Dodd of 1303 Chase Street, Novato housewife, slammed into the stopped car from behind, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Eighteen-month-old Cherry L. Dodd, daughter of Mrs. Dodd, was treated by a Novato physician for seemingly superficial hurts but was receiving head X-rays today. Mrs. Lorraine Wahlquist, in her husband's car, suffered whiplash neck injury for which she went today to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

The California Highway Patrol cited Mrs. Dodd on charges of driving too fast for prevailing conditions and causing an injury accident.

Civic Center P.O. Bids Opening Set

Prospects are good for at least two or three bids on the Marin County Civic Center post office, a spokesman for the post office real estate department in San Francisco said today.

Bids will be opened at 1:30 p.m. Friday. The recent stop order on the civic center may have frightened off some out-of-the-area bidders, the spokesman said.

Bay Area contractors "understand that the situation has stabilized" said the spokesman. "This makes us hopeful that several sealed bids will be received during the week."

The department will sublease its ground at the civic center, which it has from the county at $1 a year, and some private interest will provide the building and re-lease it to the department for 50 years.

The real estate department said Marin's post office will be unusual in that due to the overall architecture by the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, "local control beyond what is usual" has been permitted so that "more than the regular box building" will be provided. Cost is expected to work out at little more than usual, he said.

Burglar Takes Gems, Guns, Coins

Theft of $579 worth of jewelry, guns, coins and a radio, was reported to sheriff's deputies Saturday by Harold G. McFarland, 41, of 456 Calle De La Mesa, Loma Verde.

McFarland said he returned home at 10:30 p.m. and discovered both bedrooms had been ransacked.

Stolen were engagement ring with 11 diamonds, a three-diamond wedding band, a woman's wristwatch, seven gold coins valued at $46, three coin banks, a $75 carbine, a $95 shotgun, a transistor radio, and two coin bracelets.

Deputy Sheriff Douglas Gledhill said the burglar apparently pulled a box beneath an unlocked window to a utility room and crawled into the house.

Aldeguer is accused of murdering James Roger Collins Jr., 38, a taxi driver, and attempting to murder Ruth Aldeguer, 37.

The stabbings occurred at the Aldeguer home, 10 Plymouth Circle, Mill Valley.

Novato Area May Not Feel Water Dearth

There's a 50-50 chance that the Novato area will get through the year without a serious shortage of water.

The odds come from Jerome Gilbert, manager of the North Marin Water District, which with Sonoma County is constructing a pipeline which will bring Russian River water to Novato.

Gilbert says that unless heavy rain comes before summer, this will be the driest year in the last 35 for North Marin and the third parched one in a row. Stafford Lake, the present district supply, now has 60 per cent of the water required to get residents through until the opening of the Russian River line in December.

Gilbert said the district is continuing a study of possible water purchase from the Marin Municipal Water District through a joint pipeline. He also has asked Sonoma County about possible speedup of construction of the Russian River line, both in Sonoma and Marin County.

Directors of both Sonoma and Marin districts met Friday to discuss a charged violation of the inter-district water contract by Sonoma. No decision was reached, Gilbert said, on the size of outlets to be put in on the Petaluma end of the line and the 478 feet of line the Marin district says is not in the contract but will be constructed in Petaluma.

The districts will hold another discussion session in about two weeks, Gilbert said.

$500-$600 Stolen From Mission Inn

Burglars raided the office of the Mission Inn at 720 B Street, San Rafael, early today and took between $500 and $600 cash.

Co-owner Leo Victor Albertoni, who lives in a room next to the office at the rear of the building, told police the burglary must have been committed while he was taking Frank Robello, an employee, home.

He discovered the loss when he returned to his room about 2 a.m. after a half hour's absence.

The burglars pried open a bedroom window, walked through Albertoni's rooms, forced open the door to the office and pried open the filing cabinet where they found the weekend receipts.

The farmer's share of the consumer's dollar went from 39 to 37 cents between November, 1958, and November, 1959.

Mr. Miller, Where Do You Stand On Reapportionment?

An open letter to:
Hon. Clement W. Miller, M.C.
House Office Building
Washington, D.C.

Dear Congressman Miller:

Just slightly over a year ago we had an exchange of letters concerning the possibility of Marin County being cut off from the First Congressional District and of you moving your home from Corte Madera and Inverness to a northern county to retain your seat in Congress by living in the new, Marin-less district.

In both of your letters of Jan. 9, 1960, and Jan. 21, 1960, you insisted that "it doesn't seem in the cards at all" for Marin to be cut off from the district. Speaking of the district as a whole you declared:

"It seems nice the way it is—stringbean and all. We have more of a community of interest north to south than would be supposed."

Now, 13 months later, the district seems to be the same, yet you appear to have changed. Your backers, and we can only assume that they represent your thinking, are trying to cut Marin County out of that "nice" district you represent and attach it to San Francisco or, even more likely, to a totally new district of Marin, Solano, Yolo and Colusa Counties. What possible thing do these four counties have in common?

The thing that has happened between then and now has been the election. You were re-elected by a tiny majority of slightly more than 7,000 votes out of 224,000 votes cast. Do you believe that the proper way to reapportion congressional districts is on the political basis of how it affects the congressman? Or should the new districts be designated on the basis of population and interests?

It would be easy to make yourself perfectly clear as to where you stand on reapportionment. You could instruct your supporters here that you still believe there is a "community of interest" in the counties of the First Congressional District, that your home community should not be submerged in the machinations of big city politics, that a more equitable method of reapportionment should be worked out.

More than 29,000 Marin voters cast ballots for you, supposedly because they wanted you to represent them. That's more than 25 per cent of all the votes you received last November in seven counties. Certainly they didn't vote that way with the idea that less than a year later you would reject them for your own political benefit.

All Marin voters are concerned about this situation. We certainly would appreciate hearing from you about it.

Sincerely,
THE INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Don't Jump For First Medical Plan

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The President's attempt to tackle some of our nation's health problems is highly commendable. There is little doubt that Mr. Kennedy's motivation is more than political; his sincerity in attempting to meet some of these complicated problems is obvious. This does not mean, however, that we should eagerly accept the first major proposal that is submitted.

The recently proposed health plan has some merit, but the objections are many and it is to some of these that I would like to direct my remarks.

Anyone who happens to have had the good fortune to reach age 65 and who in addition holds a social security card will be a benefactor of this program. There is no provision for medical need, regardless of age, in order to insure that people will reach 65. There is also no provision for the aged without social security cards, who as a group, certainly need financial assistance for their health problems.

I also believe it is wrong to include a large number of persons who can afford to pay their own way, but will now have no need to do so.

Many persons who can meet the dual test (age 65 and social security card holder) can well afford to assume responsibility for their own medical care and there is no reason to have the community as a whole incur this additional burden. I believe this is bad both philosophically as well as economically. I think it important that individuals be expected to be responsible for themselves. The limits of this responsibility varies widely, and I believe it is a proper function of government to carry on the responsibility when the individual is no longer comfortably able to do so.

However, it is important that the incentive to assume individual responsibility be maintained and unfortunately a large measure of this incentive is financial. As applied to health, there would be very little motivation for most of use to provide for this area when we know that we will be cared for by community funds.

Arbitrarily, uniform standards are rarely equitable. Some persons can not even afford the $20 maximum for outpatient work or the $10 per day for nine-day hospital charge. Others can afford much more.

The problem can be partially alleviated by providing for a sliding scale of deductible mosts which the individual must pay before he would be eligible for government assistance. The sliding scale would need to take into account, income, wealth, size of family, cost of illness, etc. It would, I believe, be a more equitable means of providing governmental financial assistance for health problems.

I would like to emphasize just two other points. First, the increase in total medical cost (although the payee will change) will be herendous. This is primarily because the proposed plan provides that the patient pay only $20 deductible for outpatient diagnostic work and $10 per day for the first nine days when inpatient care is needed.

Public opinion to the contrary, most doctors today actually spare no effort to save the patient money in diagnostic work-ups as well as when hospitalization is required. This is because we are all too aware of the high cost of medical care. With the knowledge that only a bare minimum of the total expense will be directly borne by the patient, the dimensions of diagnostic work and therefore their cost, as well as the length and cost of hospital stay, will skyrocket. Again, a sliding scale of costs to the patient dependent on his ability to pay will help eliminate some of these objections.

The last point I would like to make concerns aid to medical schools. There is little doubt that this is needed for a variety of reasons and, in fact, the federal government now contributes a good deal of financial aid to the medical schools through research and training grants. But additional money to the medical schools will not, as Mr. Kennedy implies, solve the so-called "doctor shortage." At the moment the "doctor shortage" is a myth.

Is there a shortage of physicians in San Francisco, New York, Chicago or any other reasonably desirable area? Of course not.

The problem is one of distribution of doctors; getting physicians to go to rural and other areas which are not particularly medically attractive. This, in fact, is one of the major problems confronting American medicine today, and additional federal money to the training centers is not going to solve it.

Although there are many areas in the nation's health which need attention, the need is not generally that critical that we must jump at the first proposal, particularly when it will initiate more problems than it solves.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

MORE THAN FEAR NEEDED

"Scare campaigns" do not reduce accidents, according to one safety expert.

Photographs of horrible wrecks have some shock value. So do statistics that compute your chances of being killed in a traffic accident by sundown of a holiday. But surveys reveal that they have little long-range effect in deterring disaster.

A real fear of getting into an auto wreck, ruining your health or losing your immortal soul can be a powerful motivation if you cooperate quickly and generously with the promptings of your conscience.

While the impulse of fear is not to be despised, the stimulus of love and respect for what is right is a far more powerful incentive. It will stimulate you to lead the full, free and constructive life that God wishes you to enjoy.

Make it a point to keep your motivation high in everything that you think, say and do, and you will seldom become the victim of unhealthy fear.

"Perfect charity casteth out fear."
(1 John 4:18)

Help me, O Holy Spirit, to let love rather than fear dominate my life.

Doc Losing Bedside Manner? He May Be Too Busy, Overworked

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Doctors used to pride themselves on having "a good bedside manner." . . . If fewer do today, it's mainly because they're simply too busy and overworked.

The average patient now consults his physician five times a year . . . About 66 per cent of consultations take place in the doctor's office, 10 per cent are home calls, the others are hospital visits or telephone calls.

What is the greatest problem mankind faces? . . . Many scientists feel it isn't the atom bomb but the human birth bomb: How the world can feed the 100,000 new infant mouths that open for food each day

Is Jerry Lewis America's cleanest comedian? . . . His home in Hollywood has 17 baths.

Rare parental privilege: Only six fathers in U. S. history have lived to see their sons become tenants of the White House . . . The latest is ex-Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy . . . The other five were the fathers of Presidents John Quincy Adams, Millard Fillmore, U. S. Grant, Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge.

If you like a girl "5 foot 2 with eyes of blue," you'd better marry one soon . . . The supply of short girls, no matter what color their eyes, is getting shorter each year . . . By the year 2,000, it is estimated, 30 per cent of American girls will be 5 feet 6 or higher.

Planning to sell your home? . . . Some real estate men say you can get up to 12 per cent more if you paint it first.

Medicine marches on: This was a cure for deafness prescribed in the 13th century: "Find a live lion, hold its right ear over your ailing ear long enough to say, 'Hear, by the living gods and the keen virtue of a lion's hearing'!"

Most thoughtful patients decided they preferred the disease to the remedy.

OIL IS STILL where you find it . . . Sometimes money isn't as important as luck in discovering new petroleum sources . . . Eaxample: 38 of the 39 deepest wells ever drilled ended as dry holes.

Blood transfusions are relatively new . . . Bedical journals report only two in the Civil War . . . And none attempted during the Spanish American War more than 30 years later.

SURVIVAL TIP: If you are ever pursued by a grizzly bear, don't try to outrun him—shinny up the nearest tall tree and wait for better days . . . The adult grizzly's claws aren't well adapted to tree climbing.

"Write sternly," suggested his friend, "and demand payment of the two thousand gold pieces."

"Most careless listener," reproved the businessman. "I told you it was only one thousand gold dollars."

"I know," nodded the friend, "and your competitor will indignantly write and tell you so. Then you will have your receipt."

Night club business in Hollywood, none too robust in the best of times, has all but vanished since the holidays. "It's gotten so bad," admits one boniface, "that when a customer gave us a 50 dollar bill to change the other night, we made him a partner!"

Some Interesting People Live In The Highlands Of Sausalito

On the hills above Bridgeway in Sausalito people live.

Some hardly ever come down to town, but come and go to San Francisco by secret upper roads. Some have as fascinating stories as those who live near the water.

In one brown-shingled house behind a tall cypress hedge lives a woman with so many stories she almost seems untrue. Her name is Franc Merchant Elliott.

She lives in a house 80 years old, has a garden with 40 different varieties of camellias, an aviary with 80 canaries. She doesn't like finches "because they multiply too fast."

SHE WAS BORN into history. A Daughter Of The American Revolution, she traces her family back 15 lines to William the Conqueror.

Her late husband, Harry Elliott, and she were partners on the Sausalito News from 1922 to 1927 before they were married. "Partners aren't supposed to get along," she said, "but, well, we married."

Mrs. Elliott helped her husband write publicity for three generations of Fords and in publicizing West Coast auto shows. For a number of years they did publicity for Maurice Chevalier. Elliott was credited with having started the "Meet The Press" programs in San Francisco and having been instrumental in keeping the East-West Game in the West when it was in danger of being moved to New Orleans.

LAST SUMMER Mrs. Elliott finished a book on the Merchant geneology. At present she is busy writing short stories, "mostly about Christmas," she says.

She is keenly interested in the Civil War, the centennial of which is being celebrated this year.

"My grandfather was killed at the Battle of Gettysburg when my mother was one year old," she said. The other day she was at a Civil War service ceremony at the Presidio when she happened to see the grave of a Union spy. When Mrs. Elliott got home she checked in one of her books and said "I thought so. Pauline Cushman."

In her house there are three fireplaces, in her high-ceilinged kitchen, an old fashioned wood and coal stove and in her garden, raccoons.

A LOS ANGELES newspaper clipping reads that in 1921 Mrs. Elliott was "conceded to be the first woman to fly between San Francisco and Los Angeles" when she took the initial flight between the two cities.

"Just outside of Bakersfield," the clipping reads, "they threw a connecting rod and landed in a cotton field. She stepped out of the plane as calm as you please, her face covered with oil and said, 'Well, where do we go from here, boys?'"

Signed photographs on the basement wall tell of many of the greats the Elliott's publicized and befriended—Chevalier, Edsel Ford II, Eddie Rickenbacker, Amos and Andy, Bob Hope, Kate Smith, Rupert Hughes, Rudy Vallee.

"MY REAL HOBBY is gardening," said Mrs. Elliott. "That's a Corona. Not one of the nicest ones. This one is a Chandler. That's a nice one." Camellias.

"I use all of the fruit on the place. I make my own marmalade, quince and apple jelly to give to my friends.

"I hate the raccoons," she said, "because they eat and injure the flowers, kill the goldfish and eat the lilies."

"I garden and keep busy. That's the way to keep well. You don't think about yourself. If someone else does the gardening for me, I feel like a youngster not able to go to the show."

U.N. Still Our Best Hope To Reach A Solution In Congo

WASHINGTON — In the Congo, the U.N. and the U.S.A. now find themselves in the middle They have tried and failed to pacify the irreconcilables on the Left and on the Right. On the Left are the Lumumbists in Oriental province, now led by an authentic Communist, Gizenga, and openly supported by the U.S.S.R. On the Right is the province of Katanga led by Tshombe, and supported by Belgium.

The two warring extremes have several things in common. Both are opposed to the U.N. and both are demanding that the U.N. troops be withdrawn. They want a field to fight their civil war.

BOTH HATE the peacemakers. Presumably the Left believes that with the help of the U.S.S.R. and of the United Arab Republic and the other Casablanca nations it can conquer the whole Congo. Presumably the Right believes that with Belgian support it can at least hold the rich and crucial province of Katanga, and in the course of time draw the West, including the United States, into more and more active support of its cause.

The grim fact is that among the Congolese factions which have arms and some authority there is none that looks to the U.N. for a solution. This is true of the Communist Gizenga in Stanleyville, of the Belgian Tshombe in Elizabethville, and of our somnolent Kasavubu in Leopoldville.

THERE IS INDEED reason to suspect, in view of the sequence of events, that the murder of Lumumba was perpetrated when it began to appear that the Western powers were agreed on proposals for the pacification of the Congo including the release of Lumumba. The men who murdered him wanted not only to do away with Lumumba, whose hold on the masses was growing while he was in prison. They wanted to establish the idea that the only way to deal with the Congo is to fight out the civil war.

As against this, there is the fact that a collapse into international civil war in the Congo will involve most of Africa in the cold war. If that happens, it will be a lethal blow to the hopes of the new African states for peaceable development.

Even if these states are not involved in the fighting, the big powers both East and West will have little time, energy, or money for assisting their development.

OUR BEST HOPE in Africa is staked on this also. For many reasons, including our own Negro problem at home, the United States can make no military intervention in Africa without pushing popular sentiment towards the Soviet Union. Only if our actions in Africa are not military, are technical and humanitarian, can we expect our influence to be accepted.

month to Kasai Province by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu. Lumumba himself was slain after being transferred to secessioniast Katanga Province by Kasavubu.

Hammarskjold protested vigorously against the latest slayings.

The secretary-general gave no details, but said an aide of Albert Kalonji, president of South Kasai, had told Dayal the six were dead.

The dead included Jean Finant, ex-president of Oriental Province; a Maj. Fataki, former commander of the Stanleyville gendarmarie; the president of Lumumba's youth movement, Nzuzi; and three men named Muzungu, Elengesa and Yangara.

Stevenson said the latest developments emphasized the necessity for urgent and effective action.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin said Hammarskjold cannot "escape responsibility for what he should have averted under the original resolutions of the Security Council."

Zorin demanded the immediate arrest of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, chief of state of Kasavubu's armed forces, and Moise Tshombe, president of Katanga Province.

The secretary-general's announcement came as the council resumed debate on the Congo crisis after a weekend recess.

public schools would be distributed under a formula giving poorer states, such as Mississippi, a bigger relative share than richer states, such as New York.

Administration officials said the states themselves would decide how much of the money they get would be used for construction and how much to pay teachers.

There would be no strings attached, except that each state would have to "maintain its own effort or contribution" and to allot more money for education if its share falls below the national average.

Federal funds could go to radically segregated schools under the bill's provisions, if states so choose, officials saidi.

sion chairman, said he thought she was confusing the matter with the master plan for the valley, and noted that the changes under consideration were for the whole county.

Dobbs listed a number of reasons for eliminating interim zoning and putting all areas under the comprehensive zoning ordinance. He noted that the interim ordinance permits duplexes in any area, permits keeping of animals on small lots, has a 7,500 square foot lot size minimum, has no provisions result in dougle standards for the county and work to the detriment of certain areas, he said.

Dobbs said that anyone wanting a copy of the proposed ordinance and revisions may obtain one from the planning department.

John F. Kelly, manager of the drug store, identified the hatchet but said none had been sold yesterday. Hoops said he bought the tackle box in Santa Rosa.

Hallinan Discounts Prisoner Trade

Thaw in the cold war might readily bring about Soviet release of American airman Francis Gary Powers, but it's "just silly" to talk of him as figuring in any present exchange of Russian and American prisoners, attorney Vincent Hallinan of Ross said today.

His comment was elicited by press reports quoting Powers' father in Norton, Va., as saying that Hallinan had supported a swap of Morton Sobell, convicted atomic spy, for Powers.

"Powers and Sobell are two men sentenced under criminal law," said Hallinan. "It's just silly to think there could be any exchange under present conditions. But a change in the political climate could bring about Powers' release easily enough."

Hallinan attended Powers' trial last year in Moscow. He was invited by the Soviet government to be an observer.

Marin Cage Race Goes Down To The Wire This Week

Tam Vs. Redwood Battle Tops Schedule Tomorrow

One of the most exciting weeks in the two-year history of the Marin County Athletic League is on tap starting tomorrow as the frantic three-way struggle for the basketball championship begins.

With half of the six team league tied for first place, it will be a down to the wire battle for the title and the coveted bid to the Tournament of Champions that goes with it.

PREP OF THE WEEK—Jim Soden (above) of Marin Catholic has been selected Marin Athletic League's "Prep of the Week" for leading his Wildcats to their 31-29 double-overtime upset victory over Redwood Friday night. Soden, a senior center, bucketed 13 points, including four straight pressure-packed free throws in the overtime. He will receive a certificate from the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM.

Tamalpais, Redwood and San Rafael are the co-leaders with identical 6-2 records. One and possibly two of those teams will be knocked out of the lead in tomorrow's battles as the schedule calls for Tamalpais vs Redwood at Redwood and San Rafael entertaining dangerous Marin Catholic. Tomorrow's other tile matches Novato and Drake at Drake. All varsity games start at 4 p.m.

Friday's final games will be Redwood at San Rafael, Novato at Tam and Drake at Marin Catholic.

TAM HAS EDGE

The schedule gives the edge to Tam since the Indians play winless Novato Friday night after the showdown with Redwood tomorrow. Redwood's two games with the co-leaders is the toughest schedule, but San Rafael won't have it easy either as the Bulldogs tomorrow face the Marin Catholic team that Friday night stunned Redwood in double-overtime, throwing the league into the three-way race.

Should a tie for the championship develop, a playoff probably would be scheduled on a neutral court to determine the league's representative in the T of C which begins next month in Berkeley. The T of C is composed of titlists of Bay Area leagues.

BOXER VS. PUNCHER

Stay-at-homes will get a break tomorrow as radio KTIM will broadcast the play-by-play excitement from Redwood High starting at 4 o'clock. The game also is expected to attract a capacity crowd to view the boxer vs. puncher type of battle.

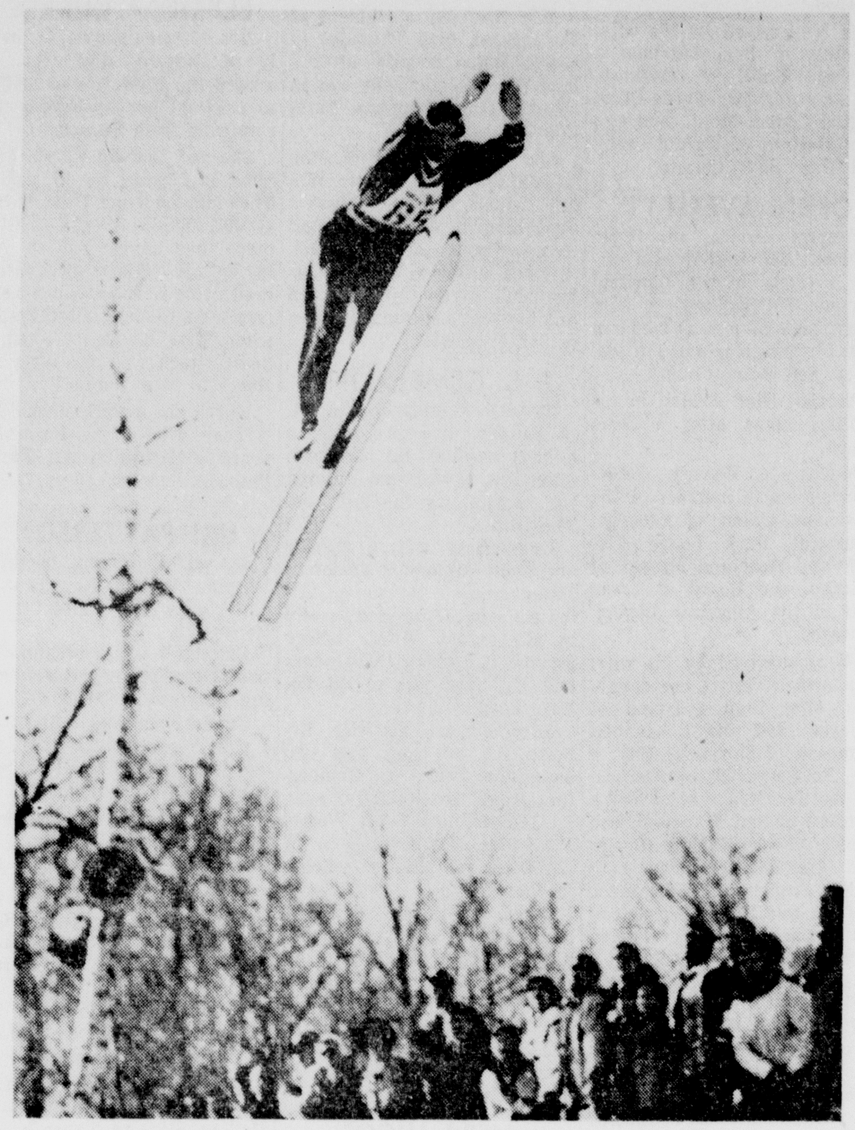

Redwood, featuring Roger Siemens, Rich Brear and Mike Kavanagh, is the "boxer" with the league's best defense. Tam has a three-pronged knockout punch with Charles Bullock, Norm Kreuter and Connie Hoetget among the league's scoring leaders. Jim Mitchelle is another dangerous Indian the Giants have to reckon with.

THRILLER EXPECTED

All in all, it adds up to a thrilling rematch. In the first round Redwood nipped Tam 40-39 on Mike Hoffman's last minute foul shot.

San Rafael's defenses get a puzzling assignment tomorrow. Friday night in the upset over Redwood, Marin scoring ace Ed O'Connell played decoy and took only one shot. In the meantime, however, Jim Soden and Jerry Smith stunned the Giants by taking over the scoring burden and leading the Wildcats to victory.

San Rafael's main threats are Randy Petrini and Rich Curry. In the first round San Rafael downed Marin 50-43 as Petrini, Curry and Rich Robertson scored in double figures.

Collision Throws U.S. Speed Skating Title Into A Tie

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Olympian Keith Meyer and unheralded Bob McCarthy reigned as national indoor speed skating co-champions today as a result of a collision in an explosive mile windup.

Meyer and McCarthy crashed while battling for the lead with just one lap to go yesterday in the final event of the two-day annual competition. Meyer managed to regain his feet quickly and make a mad dash for fourth place and a vital one point. McCarthy, however, was knocked sprawling, out of contention.

A victory would have given either sole ownership of the 1961 senior men's title. McCarthy, a New York night school student, led his rival from Glen Ellyn, Ill., by one point, 14-13, starting the mile.

As a result of the collision, Brian Schmitzer of Chicago and Ed Rudolph's effort, however, was not enough in the overall standings as the national outdoor champion finished with 13 points, one behind Meyer and McCarthy. Schmitzer had a total of seven points.

Mary Novak, a pert Northwestern University senior from Chicago, retained her senior women's indoor crown by battling off a determined challenge by Marlene Sechanic of New York.

Peanuts Bags Golf Title; Al Dark 3rd

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Little Peanuts Lowrey outdrove and outputted his rivals to win the baseball players golf championship and a final round of 72 and a 72-hole score of 295.

Lowrey's two-over-par finish yesterday gave him a three-stroke triumph over Baltimore Manager Paul Richards, who shot a 74 for a 298 total at the Miami Springs course.

The 5-foot-9 coach of the Philadelphia Phillies credited his victory to long smashes off the tees and to his steady putting game.

Alvin Dark, San Francisco Giants manager also had a fine round, coming in with a 74 to tie defending champion Jim Hearn, former Philadelphia pitcher, for third place at 301.

Ralph Terry, New York Yankee righthander, was fifth with a 78 for a 305 total. Paul Waner, the veteran hall of famer and Jimmy Davenport, Giant third baseman, were tied for sixth at 307.

HILL WINS PLAYOFF

New Young Star On Pro Golf Horizon

By HAL WOOD

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—There was a new star on the golfing horizon today and the little guy will take no back-talk from anyone when it comes to handling a set of clubs.

His name is Davey Hill, 145-pounds of tightly-packed power from Denver, Colo., who whipped Tommy Bolt and beginner Buddy Sullivan in a dramatic play-off for the $20,000 Tucson Open Golf crown yesterday.

Davey, a baby-faced 23-year-old with a crew cut, a wife and tiny baby, rolled in a down-hill, twisting 15-foot putt on the third extra hole to turn back Bolt and Sullivan for top money of $2,800. The runners-up each collected $1650. "I'm going on from here to compete in the Baton Rouge Open," said Hill after the victory. "I plan to play the full tour. This is the life."

SPECTACULAR WIN

It was a spectacular victory for Davey. He had started the day trailing Sullivan, a 29-year-old sophomore of the tour from Yuba City, by five strokes. He shot a five-under-par 65 on his final round—topping it off with a 13-foot eagle putt on the last hole.

Meanwhile, Bolt got into the play-off with a 69 by sinking a birdie putt on the last hole after just leaving an eagle putt barely short. And Sullivan got there the same way by coming out of a trap and canning a tricky, nine-footer.

PLAYOFF MASTER

But young Davey was the master when it came to the play-off, he barely stayed alive on the second hole when his 40-foot approach putt was four feet past the mark — and he came in the "back door" on the return. When the chips were down, however, on that third extra test, he came through.

As the putt disappeared to the bottom of the cup, he leaped high in the air and threw his cap and putter. He had rounds of 69-66-69-65 on the par 70 course.

SIFFORD FADES

Charley Sifford, the Negro champion from Los Angeles, who had started the day one stroke behind Sullivan, took a final round of one-over-par 71 and finished with a 271 total to tie with Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa. Each got $1150.

Tied for sixth place, with 272 and collecting $825 each were Gary Player, Langhorne, Pa., Mason Rudolph, Clarkesville, Tenn., Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., Jay Hebert, Lafayette, La., and Jacky Cupit, Longview, Tex.

Petrini Still 20 Points Shy Of Record

San Rafael's Randy Petrini, who could muster only nine points against Novato Friday nightt, was still 20 points shy of the Marin Athletic League's individual scoring record today, but the big star has two more games in which to crack the mark.

San Rafael's two remaining games are with Marin Catholic tomorrow and Redwood Friday, both games in San Rafael's gym where Petrini likes the hoops.

Marin Catholic's Ed O'Connell, who was a close second last week, dropped 17 points behind Petrini Friday when he elected to play decoy in Marin's upset victory over Redwood. O'Connell took only one shot during the game, failed to score, but still held second place with 96 points on 34 field goals, 28 charities and a 12.0 average

Giants Mentally Handicapped By Candlestick Wins, Hobie Observes

HANLEY

Hobie Landrith firmly believes the Giants can win the 1961 National League pennant "if everybody bears down all the way." The proviso the little pepperpot put on his prediction sounded strangely familiar. Sure enough, a check of Hobie's 1960 forecast contained an identical "if."

"Well," said the 5-foot-8, 175-pound catcher who will be starting his 12th major league campaign this season, "at least I'm consistent."

"Are you by any chance implying that some of your teammates did not bear down all the way last year?"

"I'm not implying anything of the kind," said Landrith. "Sometimes I wonder whether all writers have suspicious minds."

"Not suspicious, Hobie, just inquisitive."

Ignoring the correction, Landrith explained why he believes the Giants can take it all this year.

"Our club is loaded with talent," he said. "You have to have talent to post the kind of record we had through April and May last year. At the end of May we were 11 over .500. What happened in the middle of June? I don't know but I have an idea we allowed ourselves to become mentally handicapped."

LANDRITH explained that "our mental attitude toward Candlestick Park's wind currents should have been positive—I mean that all of us should have had the feeling that the wind was on our side."

Nevertheless, Landrith is the first to admit that Candlestick's much-talked about wind was not any decisive factor in the Giants winding up in fifth place instead of on top.

"But it would be foolish to deny that the wind played a part in it," Landrith said. "However, by the end of the season we were well adjusted to the breezes and we won't be worrying about them this year."

HOBIE DECLARED it will be different with the other clubs visiting Candlestick.

"Some of them were developing a complex about Candlestick," said Hobie. "And some of them feigned sympathy for us 'having to play all home games under such conditions.' That was nothing but crocodile-tear stuff designed to get the Giants mentally upset.

"Well, that line of propaganda fell flat but it did reveal that the other clubs were bothered considerably by Candlestick's air currents. So obviously the wind advantage is with us."

Landrith attributed Pittsburgh's 1960 victory to "a 125 per cent effort by every member of the team." Hobie said he could not think of one Pirate who did not give "more than 100 per cent both offensively and defensively."

ON THE other hand, Hobie pointed out, several of the Giants ran into "off seasons."

"There also was a bit of tough luck," said Landrith. "Take my roommate, Jim Davenport, for instance. He was going great afield and at bat when sidelined in mid-May by a stomach ulcer. Jim was hitting .299 at the time.

"There were a number of other tough breaks, but they have a way of evening up—and I hope this is the year they start to balance out."

RAY ROBINSON FLATTENS TWO SPAR PARTNERS

SAN JACINTO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson held an outdoor workout for the first time in his current training program—and to celebrate the occasion, he knocked out two sparring partners.

Robinson, who meets National Boxing Assn. champion Gene Fullmer March 4 in Las Vegas, Nev., cooled Buster Mills in the third round and Bobby Birch in the second yesterday before a crowd estimated by his camp at nearly 2,000.

His trainers immediately put in a call for additional sparring partners, claiming Mills and Birch were too badly bruised to continue.

Meanwhile Fullmer arrived in Las Vegas and set up headquarters in a plush gambling hotel. Robinson will arrive next weekend.

DONS TAKE OVER LEAGUE LEAD

Upsets Throw College Cage Races Into Wild Scramble

By U.P. NITERNATIONAL

You said that the Washington Huskies were washed up in the Big Five basketball race? And that Loyola had it made in the West Coast Athletic Conference?

Then take another look at Saturday's results, roomie, and send for an ice bag.

The biggest upset of the season took place in Seattle where the Huskies knocked off fourth-ranked Southern California, 61-55, to hand the Trojans their second defeat in three league games. Washington, a loser of four out of five Big Five tilts not too far back, dug deeper into second place as a result and was only one game behind Southern Cal.

During the same evening, St. Mary's blasted Loyola, 92-61, and dropped the high-riding Lions into second place behind the University of San Francisco. The Dons staged a rally to defeat San Jose State, 40-39, and boost their conference mark to 6-1. Loyola now is 8-2.

UCLA is the team which gets the chance to make the most mileage this week in the scattered Big Five schedule. The Bruins, currently third with 3-3 play at California Friday and Stanford Saturday in league games. The Trojans and Huskies both have a brace of non-conference games, Southern California plays two at Oregon State while Washington faces Idaho Friday and Washington State Saturday.

NON-LEAGUE GAMES

Loyola also is hamstrung this week, playing two non-league tilts. The Lions meet San Diego State tomorrow and San Diego University Friday.

USF can move further ahead, however, providing it beats Santa Clara Friday and St. Mary's the next night.

Here's what happened last Saturday.

Washington, although minus the services of Lyle Bakken and Bill Hanson during the second half, tied the game at 50-50 then won it on Roger Niva's layup, two fielders by Dale Easley and a jump shot by Ed Correll.

That put the Huskies safely ahead and a 25-point splurge by John Rudometkin of Southern California was nullified.

MESCHERY HOT

Tom Meschery scored 23 points, 18 of them in the first half, to lead St. Mary's to its 92-61 triumph over Loyola in the Gaels' high-voltage gymnasium. A sharp defense by St. Mary's limited Ed Bento of Loyola to eight points. The Lions narrowed the gap to 12 points in the second half, but then the fast-breaking tandem of Tom Sheridan and Steve Gray put St. Mary's further ahead.

One of the season's biggest comebacks went into the books at Berkeley where California, down by 21 points during the first half, stormed to a 64-61 win over Stanford. After halftime, the Bears exploded for 14 points before Stanford scored again. Darrell Sutherland's two free throws tied the count for the Indians at 61-61 but Cal's Bill McClintock responded with two charity tosses of his own.

The Bears then clung to the ball for the remaining two and a half minutes and cashed in on one more free throw during that time.

Ed Thomas scored 20 points while leading USF to its 40-39 win over a San Jose team which dropped the lead with eight minutes to play.

Monti Wins Bobsled, May Call It Quits

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — Eugenio Monti, the world's champion bobsledder, feels there are few fields left to conquer and today indicated he'll let someone else have a fling at all the glory.

The sandy-haired Italian, winner of the two-man world title a week ago, was awarded the four-man championship yesterday after rain washed away the final two heats. It was his second consecutive double crown and this time he made it by the slimmest of margins—three-tenths of a second.

That was the lead he held over Stan Benham of Lake Placid after Saturday's first two heats. Gunnar Ahs of Sweden was third, Franz Schelle of Germany fourth and Great Britain's Bill McCowen fifth. The other U.S. entry, Larry McKillop of Saranac Lake, N.Y., finished sixth.

"I'm getting tired," Monti said, "and I don't really know if I want to go on racing. Maybe I won't run next year."

Barrow Battles Folley Stablemate At Kezar Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Floyd Joyner, a stablemate of Zora Folley from Phoenix, squares off against up and coming Kirk Barrow of Spokane tonight in the 10-round main event at Kezar Pavilion.

The two heavyweights had been slated to meet there two weeks ago, but Joyner's father died and the bout was postponed. Monroe Ratliff, one-time California state light-heavyweight titlists, moved into Joyner's spot and startled the crowd by decking Barrow in the second round.

Barrow got up and went on to post an uphill decision which drew a lot of boos.

Joyner hooked up with the Folley stable two years ago and has lost only one bout under Bill Swift's management. His overall record is 15-2-3.

Barrow, an explosive puncher, has 20 wins, three losses and one draw.

DEFENSIVE ACE Eunice Wiekening (above), 5-foot-11-inch star from Illinois, will lead her All-American Redheads girls basketball team against the Drake High School Faculty All-Stars tomorrow night in an exhibition game at Drake's gym. The game featuring the barnstorming red heads will start at 8:15 o'clock and will benefit Drake Benchwarmer Club activities, according to Chairman Bob Anderson. Fans who have seen the red heads play are betting they will man-handle the male faculty opposition. Admission is $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Ohio State Faces Stiff Test Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Like the frying pan and the fire, it's out of Iowa City barely and into Bloomington tonight for Ohio State's singed Buckeyes in the second of two showdown steps toward major college basketball's first all-winning regular season record in four years.

The top-ranked Buckeyes, breathing hard after whipping up a 10-point late-game burst that beat Iowa 62-61 Saturday night, go against the revenge-minded Indiana Hoosiers — a tough to beat bunch at home when they don't have a grudge to settle.

And these hurryin' Hoosiers do have a grudge — one that flamed when Ohio State clobbered Indiana 100-65 at Columbus, Ohio, on Feb. 6.

COACH MIFFED

Indiana Coach Branch McCracken accused the Bucks of purposely rolling up a big score, and the Hoosier folk have been implying retaliation when Ohio State got to Bloomington for the return match.

A year ago, before the Bucks went on to the national championship, they lost at Indiana 99-83 after having rallied for a 96-95 triumph at Columbus earlier in the season. That loss, back on Feb. 29, 1960, was the last for Jerry Lucas & Co. They have won 25 since, including all 20 this season in their bid to become the first team since North Carolina in 1957 to sweep unbeaten through a regular season.

The Tar Heels ultimately went a step further — going on to win the NCAA title and finishing 32-0.

After Indiana tonight, Ohio State has three games left — at home against Wisconsin and Michigan State, and on the road at Illinois. The three have a combined Big Ten record of 6-20.

LAST RITES FOR AN ASTRONAUT

This group of mourners is performfinal rites for a Topeka, Kan., astronaut named Barney. Barney, a white mouse, was killed when the boys' homemade rocket blew up after rising less than 200 feet yesterday. The rocket was designed to eject a nose cone and parachute the mouse to earth. A competing group of youths mets disaster last week with another mouse; their rocket got aloft all right, but the parachute failed. Thus ends, at least for a while, the space race in Topeka. ELECTRIFYING EFFECT

Baker Chorale Shows Tremendous Advance

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The outstanding impression of Saturday night's concert by the Winifred Baker Chorale was the tremendous advances it has made since its last previous public appearance.

For the concert sponsored by Marin Alumnae of Mills College every seat in Angelico Hall of Dominican College was filled, and acclaim was vociferous.

69-VOICE CHORUS

Not only has Mrs. Baker built the chorus to a sizeable stature—69 voices in this concert—with soprano, alto, tenor and bass well balanced, but she has succeeded in that area where a director's influence is most readily felt—production of a vital full-bodied tone.

Its effect was electrifying in the magnificent Kodaly "Te Deum," accompanied by the 26-piece Winifred Baker orchestra and skilled organist Ludwig Altman. All shared honors in this ambitious work, which also scored the major triumph of the evening with the audience. In it the chorale seemed to have complete rapport with the style.

HUMAN APPEAL

Whether it was because this may have been lacking in the other important work, "Therefore With Angels," or because any composition heard for the first time is usually difficult to appreciate at final value, the world premiere of the Kelligar-Albanese work did not receive as enthusiastic response as "Te Deum." The poem by San Rafael poet Margaret Albanese, for which Kelligar provided the musical setting, had deep human appeal.

The conductor is to be highly commended on commissioning the piece, for talented young composers such as Robert Kelligar must have opportunities to have their compositions performed.

Another good point of the chorale's performance was quick and controlled response to differences called for in volume and pace. At times sopranos were too dominant and unanimity of phrasing and cleancut quitting of consonants were lacking, but refinements of technique should come with further training and experience.

Providing contrast with the modern character of the latter part of the program were Gustav Holst's two serene psalms and a group of four Elizabethan madrigals—the latter sung a cappella by 19 women and 10 men.

In place of a fifth programmed madrigal, a tasteful substitution was the charming French chanson, "Pays, Arrete a Mi-Chmin" by Darius Milhaud, Kelligar's teacher at Mills College, who was to have been an honored guest but could not come because of illness.

As for soloists, in the psalms and "Therefore With Angels," they were so integrated with the chorus as to scarcely seem like soloists, but in the "Te Deum" soprano Carroll Solo, tenor Gordan Zimmerman, contralto Betty Gordon and baritone Robert Reeves formed a well blended and pleasing focal emphasis. The voice of Miss Solo, particularly in pianissimo passages in the high register, was exquisite in tone and clarity.

Johnson Plane Crashes; 2 Pilots Killed

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's private Convair plane crashed last night seven miles from Johnson's LBJ ranch, killing two pilots who were on board.

Texas Department of Public Safety agents radioed from the scene today that they had found the wreckage and the two dead pilots, Harold Teague and Charles Williams.

The plane, which Johnson used for business trips, crashed last night, shortly after it had radioed at 8:30 p.m. that the weather was too bad for it to land at Johnson's private airport and that it was turning back to Austin, 65 miles away.

Teague and William were ferrying the plane from Austin to the ranch. There is one lighted runway at the ranch. There are instrument landing facilities at Austin.

The vice president was at the ranch. An aide reported he was up all night.

Second 'Congo' Feared In Northern Rhodesia

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—Tension is mounting in Northern Rhodesia after the failure of the London negotiations to reform the British African territory's constitution.

The ruling white minority is increasingly nervous as the black majority awaits the return from London of its leaders, Kenneth Kaunda and Harry Nkumbula.

Their return might set off violence, especially after their bitter complaints in London that they suspected that Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, thwarted the African hopes of getting greater voting rights and eventual majority rule.

Thousands of whites are packing to leave South Africa and Australia, fearing political upheaval and violence similar to that in the neighboring Congo.

The London conference broke down Friday after leaders of the white minority refused to agree to demands of the black majority for a majority in the new Legislative Council.

Kaunda charged that the British government had betrayed the blacks and that Welensky, although his United Federal party boycotted the talks, played a major role behind the scenes.

Garden Society Elects Officers

Mrs. Thomas Cussick was elected president of the Garden Society of Marin Friday night at its annual meeting at the Adaline E. Kent School, Kentfield.

Other officers elected were Ernest Larson, vice president; Miss Sylvia Weidenfeld, treasurer; Mrs. A. J. Daggett, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Meilink, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Eleanor Doll, membership secretary.

Chester Bowers, Hugh Armstrong and Mrs. Leona Harrington were elected to the board of directors.

Terra Linda Debate On Radio-TV Urged

The chairman of the Terra Linda Taxpayers League today declined an invitation to appear on a public forum on the question of annexation to San Rafael, and proposed instead a radio or television debate on the subject.

Anton J. Lonich, the taxpayer league chairman, said he received an invitation Friday from Dr. Michael J. Franzblau, chairman of the Terra Linda Community Services District board, to appear at a public forum on the question March 3 in Bernard Hoffman School.

Lonich said past experiences in Terra Linda shows such meetings "create ill feeling among the residents," and that few attend them anyhow.

He proposed that, instead, he and Franzblau debate the annexation issue on radio or television shortly before the annexation election of March 7.

Crash Hurts Mother, Son

A San Rafael woman and her 5-month-old son were treated in Marin General Hospital for minor bruises Saturday after the pickup in which they were riding struck a panel truck on San Germonimo Valley Drive near Central Avenue in Woodacre at 2:30 p.m.

Injured were Mrs. Donna Addison and her son, Mark. The pickup was driven by Mrs. Addison's husband, Larry D., of 320 Third Street.

Addison told California highway patrolmen he was driving west on San Geronimo Valley Drive when a panel truck driven by Charles Walter Dawson, 52, of Woodacre pulled out of a driveway in front of his vehicle. Addison said he could not avoid hitting the truck.

Dawson was cited for failure to heed right of way.

Corte Madera Will Consider Naming New Councilman

Corte Madera Town Council at its meeting at 7:45 p.m. today will consider appointment of a new councilman to replace William Hansen, who has resigned.

The council has until March 2 to make an appointment before a special election must be called to fill the vacancy.

A letter will come before the council from the Marina Village Improvement Club requesting sidewalks on Paradise Drive for children who will attend the San Clemente School to be built in Mariner's Cove. The town policy has been not to put in sidewalks, but to leave it up to property owners.

Councilmen will report on their on-site inspection Saturday of Sausalito Street which is to be completely reconstructed.

Bill Would Aid Disturbed Kids

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's advisory committee on children and youth has urged that attention be given emotionally disturbed public school children.

The 40-member committee voted support for a bill which would give state support to school districts spending money to help emotionally handicapped minors. The bill was praised as one which would help curb juvenile delinquency.

Dr. Donald S. Howard of Los Angeles, committee chairman, said "many kids get into trouble because of discomforts in the school system."

The next Tuesday, Mrs. Karoly Rosthy will prepare chicken paprika, filbert cake and palachinta. The filbert cake is made with ground nuts, and is flourless; palachinta is similar to crepes Suzettes, Hungarian style.

Locale of the weekly cooking lessons will be the kitchen of Dr. and Mrs. Fred M. Tetzlaff, 134 San Carlos Avenue, Sausalito, from 2 until 4 p.m.

Reservations for the entire group of four lessons, or for individual dates may be made through the chairman of the project, Mrs. Thomas Mannell, 41 Miller Avenue, Sausalito. Proceeds will benefit the school building fund and its tuition-aid program.

Bees For Rent

LABELLE, Fla. (AP)—Farmers in this southeast Florida winter vegetable belt have bees on their payrolls.

They rent beehives for $10 each to insure quick pollination of their crops. About 30 hives are used for each 50-acre tract.

The bees' work speeds ripening—important to growers who face stiff competition for high early season prices.

Hive rentals are a sideline to beekeepers. They're mainly interested in honey production.

EXTENDING AN invitation to join in the Chinese New Year celebration which will be marked on Thursday at "Fashions With A View" at the Ondine in Sausalito is Mrs. William Donohoe. A promenade of custom originals by San Francisco designer Norma of Dalen will highlight the show.

Legion's Educational Handbook Distributed

The American Legion's educational handbook, "Need a Lift?" containing hundreds of college and vocational school scholarships for qualified high school students of this area has been presented to public, private and parochial high schools by San Anselmo Unit No. 179 of the American Legion Auxiliary.

This revised publication for the 1960-61 school year is recognized as one of the most complete sources of career and scholarship information in the United States. The handbook does not limit its listing to children of veterans but contains scholarship and educational aids which are available to all students.

Mrs. Jess Fisher, educational and scholarship chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit, stated that thousands of young people have not taken advantage of the generous educational aids which are available due to a failure to plan early for their future education.

She mentioned in particular the Junior GI Bill which provides up to $110 per month in educational help for sons and daughters of veterans who lost their lives as a direct result of war-time military service. Over half of the young people eligible for this help have failed to apply, Mrs. Fisher said.

Experience has proven that plans for higher education should begin during the student's sophomore year in high school. "The boy or girl who starts considering career and scholarship sources early is the one with the best chance of going on to school," she said.

Parents and students are encouraged to make use of the copies of "Need A Lift?" provided as a service to the community. The publication, prepared by the education and scolarship committee of the American Legion in Indianapolis, is now in its 10th edition with distribution of more than a quarter of a million copies since its first issue in 1951.

Staff Member Visits

Miss Norma Northberg, national staff member, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., visited Marin Girl Scout Council on Feb. 16 and 17. During her two-day stay, she consulted with members of the Board of Directors and the executive staff. The purpose of Miss Northberg's visit, according to Miss Dorothy Erthle, executive director, was to consult with the executive committee and analyze council activities in Marin County.

Expert Tells How Color Helps You

ST. PAUL (UPI) — The 1961 spring fashions are full of gay, vivid and daring colors. But before that April spree in the dress shops, a University of Minnesota home economist has a word of warning.

"Your personal coloring is the key to choosing becoming color in your clothes," according to Mrs. Charlotte Baumgartner.

When choosing any piece of clothing, Mrs. Baumgartner suggested, "consider what will best suit you; your skin, hair and eyes."

"The key to color fashion," she said, "is to emphasize the desirable characteristics."

For instance, you can make blue eyes more intense by wearing a blue dress slightly more grayed than are the eyes. Or produce the same effect by wearing a small amount of the same hue if it is more intense. For example, try a violent blue necklace.

It is also possible to emphasize your coloring by wearing the complement of the hue you wish to emphasize. If you are a blonde, the neutralized orange tones of your hair will appear more intense if you wear a bright blue sweater.

"Very light values seem to add color also," Mrs. Baumgartner said. If you want to bring out the color of your complexion and hair, wear white or some very light value next to your face.

"A world of modern and exciting fashion awaits every woman who learns to know herself and buy accordingly," Mrs. Baumgartner said.

Tamelpa Parlor To Present Flag

Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor 231 of Native Daughters of the Golden West made plans at a recent meeting in the Outdoor Art Clubhouse to present the California Bear flag to the city of Mill Valley.

The presentation will take place in front of the city hall on March 12 at 1 p.m. Working on the program and preparation for the event is Mrs. Lee Spayd, Americanism and civic participation chairman.

Honored guests were Mrs. Caroline N. Faustine of Sea Point Parlor 196, Mrs. Henrietta Faber of Marinita Parlor 198 and Jean Reeves of Santa Rosa Parlor 217.

At the conclusion of the meeting members and guests viewed a movie filmed in the Hawaiian Islands taken by Mrs. Fred Brusati, who recently returned from her vacation there.

Serving refreshments were Mesdames Edward Kraft, Lloyd Canham and Edward Clinton.

Hymns Top Hit Parade For Home Song Fests

CHICAGO (UPI)—Take it from veteran radio emcee Don McNeill — the song writers have missed a bet in failing to compose any new hymns in recent years.

McNeill has featured at least one hymn on his network Breakfast Club radio program, broadcast by ABC, every week day since he went on the air 27 years ago.

"And we keep getting requests for more religious music," he said. In the absence of any new hymns, McNeill has collected the old favorites in a new hymnal called "Don McNeill's Family Album of Favorite Hymns."

He put out the book for home song fests because he's found that most people like to sing hymns as well as listen to them. McNeill attributes much of the popularity of hymn singing to the fact that so many people know the words of the songs.

If his studio audiences are representative, "More People know the words of 'The Battle Hymn of the Republic' than 'I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover,'" he said.

But while virtually everybody seems to know the hymns, McNeill often runs into trouble finding professional singers who can put them across.

He's found his share of pros who can sing a hymn — Betty Johnson, Anita Bryant, Johnny Desmond and Dick Noel.

But too many young singers who've made a few recordings make the mistake of trying to gimmick up a hymn," he said. "Girl singers, in particular, think they can stylize a hymn by flatting the notes or sliding up them."

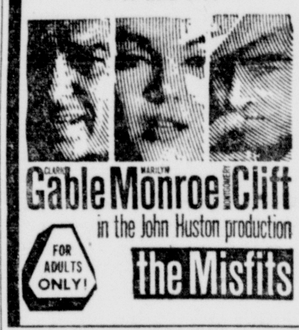

McNeill objects to anything but a normal interpretation of hymns, in a full, sweet voice.

"Hymns are about as basic as music can be, and most folks prefer them straight," he said.

Occasionally, McNeill has found that a singer just has too good a voice to put across a hymn. He placed Mimi Benzell in this category.

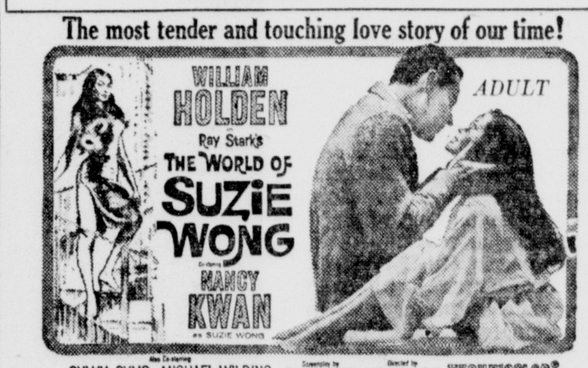

She sang a hymn on his program, "and her voice was too trained and her delivery too polished to exude the necessary warmth," McNeill said.

The world's largest tanker, the Universe Apollo, was launched in December, 1958. It has a capacity of 1,021,000 barrels of oil.

Europe Tour With Peg Wilbert To Be An Exciting Adventure

By LEIGH CHAMBERLAIN, PHILIP SCHAUB

Anyone who's done battle with international airline schedules, train timetables, passport and visa requirements, hotel accommodations will realize that getting there is not half the fun! But, if you want to go to Europe and still have the fun of anticipating a trip, the best thing to do is get yourself a reputable travel agent.

A travel agent is a combination Encyclopedia Brittanica and international computer. Working from a client's barest whim, he comes up with a schedule that includes trans-Atlantic and foreign transportation (plane, boat, train, motor coach, chauffeur-driven or self-drive car), hotel, accommodations, meals, English-speaking guides, packing guides, advice to the unwary, sightseeing excursions and visas. Somehow or other, he even manages to price the whole junket.

Additionally, many travel agents offer package tours to Europe. An interesting one that recently came to our attention is the Peggy Wilberg European Friendship Tour, available from Redwood Travel Advisors, San Rafael, or Swissair in San Francisco. For an all-inclusive price of $1,749 tour members can visit Portugal, Spain, Italy, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France and England.

PEGGY WILBERG

Peggy Wilberg, in private life Mrs. John Wilberg of Mill Valley, is the former Baroness Erna von Lieber, who was born in Germany and educated at the Universities of Jena and Munich. She began her international career by editing an English language newspaper in Munich for the convenience of English-speaking visitors to the Oberammergau Passion Plays. In addition to newspaper writing, she did promotion for various American motion picture firms in Europe, including United Artists, Paramount, Columbia and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

PEGGY WILBERG

From 1935-57, Mrs. Wilberg was part of the Organizing Committee for the Olympic Games in Garmisch Partenkirchen and Berlin. Returning with highly acclaimed film coverage of the event, she lectured widely in this country. Since settling in Mill Valley 15 years ago she has been a contributor to various publications, both locally and abroad. When she escorts members of the European Friendship Tour overseas it will mark her her fourth trip abroad in recent years. She has previously visited about 27 countries in Europe, Africa and the Western Hemisphere.

A number of Marin people are planning to make the tour with Peggy, among these are Mrs. Henry S. Foster and Mrs. Eleanor Sanborn of Mill Valley with Mrs. Sanborn's aunt, Miss Julia Mott of Palo Alto, Mrs. Zena M. Cabral of San Rafael, who plans to visit relatives in Lisbon, high ranking government officials, Mrs. Janice Newman of Larkspur and her friend, Miss Frieda Waxman of San Francisco.

Tour members will leave San Francisco aboard American Airlines on April 17. At 6 p.m. the same day they'll be comfortably ensconsed on Swissair's DC-8 jet and bound for Lisbon. Switzerland's privately owned airline is renowned for its cuisine, which compares favorably with that found in Europe's most opulent hotels.

IN THE STRATOSPHERE

The atmosphere aboard a Swissair jet is one of refined elegance. There are adjustable reclining seats, and within the cabin a rainbow of color. Cabin walls are in two shades of blue, with red trim and red arm rests. Seats are three abreast either side of the aisle, and at each one there's a different colored cushion.

There are two galleys on board, providing the food for which the airline is justly famed. New cutlery, ivory colored chinaware and glittering crystal were especially designed for these jet flights. Plates are square-shaped for greater efficiency. Food trays are made with colored napery in red, blue and yellow. The colors are mixed on each tray, adding to the festive atmosphere prevailing throughout the plane.

FRIENDSHIP TOUR

In this aura of speed, color and comfort, members of the European Friendship Tour will be winging their way across the Atlantic on April 17. The tour lasts for 51 days and visits 11 countries.

The price of $1,749 includes U.S. domestic roundtrip transportation, roundtrip Swissair trans-Atlantic economy class transportation, transportation within Europe; hotel accommodations; three meals daily (except in Rome, Paris and London); sightseeing excursions and a free baggage allowance of 44 lbs.

The price can be financed by convenient Fly Now—pay Later arrangements.

This is the first of several articles describing the highlights of the European Friendship Tour. The next one will be "Shopping in Europe."

Camp Fire Girls Hostess Dinner For Their Dads

Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds of District I had an evening out with their fathers recently, when the annual Dad-Daughter Dinner was held at the American Legion Hall in Mill Valley.

Since the dinner was a box social, the girls had a chance to put their Camp Fire homecraft training into practice, in planning and preparing the individual meals.

Gabe Lehrer was the master of ceremonies for the program of entertainment in three acts. Act I consisted of "Lollipop" and "Bill Grogan's Goat," sung and pantomined by Mrs. Melwin Lemberger's "Chattering" Blue Birds. This was followed by a pantomime of "A Little Bit of Luck," from "My Fair Lady," performed by Miss Genelle Dollarhide, Miss Barbara Hitt and Mrs. Linda Kell. Act III was a caricature of "Swan Lake," prehented by the Mesdames Joyce Gross, Pat Pleasants, Marion Scotto and Molly Coffin.

Decorations for the dinner were arranged by the "Busy," "Bay Berry," "Little Acorns" and "Dancing" Blue Birds, and Group. The "Ka-Ya-Wa-Ki" Camp Fire Girls and the "Little Acorns" Blue Birds poured and served. Clean-up duties were performed by Mrs. P. E. Spangler and Mrs. Nicholas Gravem. Mrs. Gravem was also the general chairman for the dinner.

Ottomans Lead Double Lives

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ottomans are leading double lives these days.

A yard square or even 40x40 inches, many now serve as coffee tables, cocktail tables and occasional benches—as well as footstools.

Others have built-in mechanisms for raising a portion of the ottoman into a back to create a settee big enough to seat two in comfort.

Even newer are rectangular ottomans, 20x36 inches and 20x 40 inches, that turn into an extra chair when the back is raised.

Especially useful in small homes where virtually every room must be all-purpose, the double-duty ottomans are also finding their way into the dens, libraries, family rooms and TV areas of larger homes.

Come summer, many will undoubtedly be used on patios, enclosed porches and in other outdoor areas.

A Chicago and Los Angeles manufacturer produces the drop-back fixture utilized in most of the new ottomans. It is a ratchet-type mechanism that adjusts easily to completely level or upright positions as well as four intermediate positions.

With the back straight up, there is storage space under the seat for magazines, newspapers, books, playing cards and other games.

Most of the new double-duty ottomans are modern or provincial in design. They're upholstered in a wide variety of traditional and synthetic fabrics in virtually unlimited colors and patterns.

Corn Costs

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The cost of producing corn is estimated at $80.93 per acre by J. B. Cunningham, professor of farm management at the University of Illinois.

He says it includes interest on an investment of $457 an acre, taxes, labor, machinery, etc.

And he suggests that corn should sell for at least 86 cents a bushel to break even on the basis of 94.5 bushels per acre.

Lonely Lass

GLASGLOW, Scotland (AP) — The loneliest girl in Scotland, 22-year-old Mhairi Clark, wistfully says she'd really like to dance.

But Mhairi is the only resident between the ages of 10 and 35 in the tiny village of Loch Ranza, on the wild isle of Arran.

"All the boys and girls have left long ago to work on the mainland," Mhairi says. "But I don't want to leave my people."

So at night she plays her phonograph and taps her toe to the music. You can't dance without a partner.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT: Better Health Through Knowledge

Baby Feeding

- Hernia
- Grapefruit
- Flavored Aspirin
- Dreaming Necessary

Q. Should babies be fed on schedule or "on demand?"

A. Many doctors believe in "on demand" feeding. This means that the child be fed whenever he is hungry. It doesn't imply that the baby be made to go through a protracted period of crying in order to have his hunger satisfied.

Q. Will exercise strengthen the stomach muscles and make a hernia go away?

A. No. The weak point between the abdomen and thigh consists of overlapping layers of fibrous tissue—not muscle—and fibrous tissue doesn't respond to exercise as does muscle. Anyone with a hernia who engages in strenuous exercise is inviting trouble. With certain exceptions, hernias should be corrected surgically.

Q. Which has more food value —white or pink grapefruit?

A. Pink grapefruit is said to be nutritionally superior to white varieties.

Q. Is flavored aspirin just as effective as plain aspirin?

A. Yes. The addition of sweetening and flavoring to aspirin does not affect its effectiveness.

Q. Is it normal to dream?

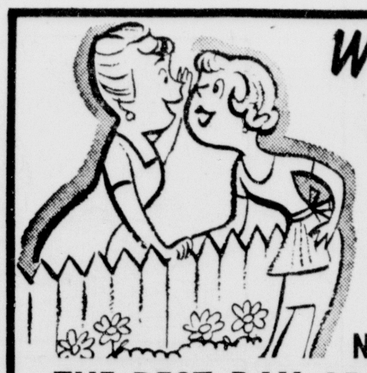

A. Not only normal, but apparently necessary. Very recent studies suggest that dreaming is part and parcel of normal sleep and occurs nightly in every sleeping person. Many of the dreams are not remembered. In one scientific experiment, persons who were prevented from dreaming for three or four successive nights became very nervous and irritable. Two dropped out of the experiment because the increasing tension was too much to bear.

PENNY

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Feb. 20, the 51st day of the year with 314 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1792, President George Washington signed the first Postal Act, establishing the federal post office.

In 1809, the Supreme Court ruled that the power of the federal government was greater than that of any individual state of the union.

In 1829, famed actor Joseph Jefferson was born.

In 1872, the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art was opened.

In 1933, following the lead of the Senate, the House of Representatives voted or the repeal of the Prohibition Amendment.

In 1938, Anthony Eden resigned as British foreign secretary in protest against the so-called appeasement policy of Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Thought for today: Writer Thomas Carlyle said: "He who would write heroic poems should make his whole life a heroic poem."

You Can Help Your Child To Learn To Be A Good Speller

Do your children spell well? For that matter, do you? Most of us blame the schools if our youngsters spell badly, but we should blame ourselves, too. Let's take a look.

Spelling is both a habit and a skill. Teachers know exactly how to introduce new spelling words. They know how to sound the syllables, trace the letters, explain the meanings. Modern spelling books are scientific and they get wonderful results temporarily. But unless a child has the habit of looking up the words he's doubtful about, he still makes mistakes. He forgets the words he does not use. He must want to spell well. He must consult the dictionary frequently if he's going to be accurate.

The same is true for you. You use words about which you're doubtful. Do you keep a dictionary handy, and look them up? Then your letters are good. Or do you barge ahead, guessing? Then you make mistakes. It is that simple.

You can help your children. Have them bring home the words they misspell. Give them a three minute drill daily, just after dinner. Don't drag it out. Do it as fun, rather than work. Hold your temper and avoid scolding. Make a list of the words you misspell. Have the children drill you. They'll love it.

Be sure to get dictionaries for the youngsters, and for yourself. There are several good children's dictionaries. Ask at school about them. The adult dictionaries on sale at drugstores may be adequate for you. If not, get a collegiate dictionary on sale at book stores. Remember your children's spelling is your business, as well as their teachers'.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Do children today spell as well as we did at their age?"

A. B.

(A) On the average they are better spellers than we were. Fewer of them master extremely difficult words. They don't shine in spelling bees. But when it comes to the spelling of common words most of them are ahead of us.

Four At Branson In Scholar Finals

Four seniors at the Katherine Branson School in Ross have been named finalists in the 1960-61 National Merit Scholarship program competition and have been awarded Certificates of Merit.

They are Megan Mery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael L. Mery Jr. of Inverness; Susan Brock of Stockton, Martha Clyde of Santa Barbara and Denyse Parsons of San Francisco.

Selection of the finalists was achieved through two tests plus endorsement from their schools. Merit scholars, to be selected from the finalist group, will be announced next April 27, and they will receive scholarships from the National Merit Scholarship Corp. and sponsoring business firms.

Two Marin County residents, Wendy Robson of Mill Valley and Michael W. Leibert of Belvedere, were among 163 Whitman College students in Walla Walla, Wash., who were included on this year's "recognition of academic distinction" list as result of their work during the past semester.

Bay Model Closing

The San Francisco Bay Model in Sausalito will be closed on Wednesday, Washington's birthday, Col. John A. Morrison, San Francisco District Army engineer, announced today. The model is open to the public 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

Two Marinites Given Fair Posts

Two officials of the Marin Art and Garden Fair have been appointed to Western Fairs Assn. posts.

Director Michael Mitchell of Larkspur has been named to the Western Fairs Assn. advisory directors board.

Secretary-manager Mrs. Marcelle McCoy of Sleepy Hollow will serve on the exhibits design committee and assist with arrangements for the association's annual meeting to be held Oct. 30-Nov. 2 in the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco.

Saturday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The youngsters, who will replace the regular KTIM staff during "students' day," are from San Rafael, Novato, Terra Linda, Tamalpais, Redwood, Drake and Marin Catholic High Schools. The event, in its 10th year, is believed to be the only one of its kind on the West Coast.

Signing on at 7 a.m. will be Chapin Day, San Rafael high senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chapin Day of San Rafael. He will also replace Bill Thompson on Thompson's morning show as well as doing the 9 a.m. "Coffee Time." Assisting him will be Carol Dickover, San Rafael high senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dickover of San Rafael.

Terra Linda high sophomore Wes Davison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Davison of San Rafael, will do the morning news broadcasts.

Mike Zifcak, Tam high senior, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Michael J. Zifcak will handle the Marin sports show. Nora Niniger, Redwood High senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Logan Niniger of Larkspur, will announce "Polka Time" and "Swap Shop" and do the morning quiz shows.

Replacing Kitty Oppenheimer on "Open House" will be Meg Nichols, Novato high senior, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Merle Nichols of Hamilton Air Force Base. "Tops in Music" will be handled by Marsha Francis, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. H. M. Francis of Fort Baker, from Tam high.

Taking station manager Hugh Turner's spot as "Man on the Street" will be Ron Sater from Drake high, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Sater of San Anselmo. Turner's son, Ron, a Novato high senior, will take over his father's program "What's Doin' in Novato." Newscaster for the afternoon will be Jeff Skov, Redwood high senior, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Skov. Young Skov also will sign off at 5:45 p.m.

Bill Thompson's afternoon program will be handled by Patricia Fogarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fogarty of Corte Madera, and Tom O'Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Connell. Both are Marin Catholic seniors.

Young O'Connell also will announce the 3 p.m. "Marin Mood Music" program, along with Pam Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Parker of San Anselmo.

Taking over at 4:45 p.m. will be Janet Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Snow and a sophomore at Terra Linda high.

Inflation Topic For Discussion By Young GOP

"Portrait of Inflation" will be discussed by Marin County Young Republicans tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael.

Dr. Robert Sawyer, member of the Marin group, will speak on the gold standard and the history of gold in the United States.

Patrick R. Byrne, assistant vice president of the Bank of America and head of its bond and investment department in San Francisco, will discuss the gold question from the viewpoint of government and private spending and financing.

The film "Operation Abolition" depicting the student riots against the House Un-American Activities Committee last May in San Francisco, will be shown at 7:30 p.m.

Will Your Grandchildren Live in Fear Of the Red Secret Police?

Nikita Khrushchev has said, "Your grandchildren will grow up under Communism."

If that's true your grandchildren will live in constant terror . . . waiting for the tramp of boots . . . for the knock on the door in the middle of the night. Is this what the future holds?

Use Car In Work? You Can Deduct Operating Expense

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

If you use your automobile for work you can deduct the cost of its operation. If both personal and business use is made of your auto, you must divide the expenses between business and personal.

Peter J. Wikel

If you are in business, the expense is deducted in schedule C, form 1040.

If you are an employee you can deduct the business expense from your wages to arrive at your adjusted gross income. Use form 2106 for this. Such expenses include the cost of gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, insurance, depreciation, interest to purchase the car, taxes, licenses, etc.

If you itemize your deductions on page 2, form 1040 or 1040-W, you can deduct license tags, annual registration fees, state gasoline taxes, state and local taxes, interest on money borrowed to purchase the car or on auto loans, casualty and theft losses, etc. An expense may be deducted only once so don't calim the same dollars on form 2106 and again on page 2, form 1040.

The cost of an automobile used for driving fellow employees to and from work is not deductible. Amounts received from such services are not income except to the extent they exceed the expenses.

Fines for violation of traffic laws, even for business, are not deductible.

Expenses for commuting between your residence and any business location situated within the area of your tax home are not deductible even though you must take your work tools home at night and back to the job in the morning.

If you work at two places in a day (whether or not for the same employer), you may deduct the expense of getting from one such place to the other.

Good Health Depends On Body's Nerve Network

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

The greatest communications system ever built is as old as mankind and will never be out of date. It is more common than the telephone but more complex that the TVA and a fleet of electronic space ships combined. What is this system?

Your nervous system . . . the incredibly vast network of fibers which links the brain, directly or indirectly with every cell, every organ and every part of your body.

The brain, of course, is the power house which generates, dispatches, receives and interprets messages to and from various parts of your body. The brain and its nerve network are in action every moment of your life—asleep or awake.

The nervous system is so complex that the most learned anatomists and physiologists know very little of its magnitude and function. The greatest electrical project ever conceived by man is insignificant compared with the human power system. One expert has estimated that there are 400 trillion nerve fibers passing through the average human skull into the spinal cord.

What happens when something goes wrong with the nerve network? When a nerve fails to deliver its proper quota of "power" to any part of the body, that part will lose its efficiency and eventually will become diseased because of an interference to the nerve.

Interferences occur most frequently in the spine when a displaced spinal bone (vertebra) will pinch or stretch the nerves within the spine or just outside it. The obvious remedy is to remove the interference.

Chiropractors specialize in removing spinal obstructions to the nervous system. This can be done by X-ray analysis and by skillful hand adjustments of any vertebra found to be causing interference.

Four Churches To Discuss Proposals For Unity Here

Four Protestant ministers and church officers will meet at a 7 p.m. dinner tomorrow at the First Methodist Church of San Rafael to discuss measures toward closer church unity here.

With the ministers acting as masters of ceremony, officers of their churches will discuss such possibilities as a cooperative healing ministry, joint approach toward solution of community and civic problems, and an occasional union of services for worship.

The pastors are Rev. Donald H. Baldwin of First Methodist, Rev. John D. Riley of St. Paul's Episcopal, Rev. Wesley C. Baker of First Presbyterian and Rev. Paul C. R. Peterson of First Congregational.

An announcement of the meeting termed this "another significant step toward church unity" following "the Blake-Pike proposal" and a pastoral declaration by the four ministers at the end of last year.

The proposal in question was one of union among the four denominations, voiced last December by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, executive head of the Presbyterian Church of the United States, in a guest appearance in Grace Cathedral, San Francisco, an Episcopal church to which he had been invited with knowledge of his views on the part of Bishop James Pike of the California Diocese. The two have subsequently been active in television and other discussions of the union theory.

Saying that "ways and means of closer cooperation" will be discussed by the pastors and officers over the dinner table, the announcement went on:

"Although no moves toward organic merger have been completed, these congregations are already exploring deeper fellowship and better understanding."

Simultaneous announcement of the dinner by the four ministers was termed a revelation of "the favorable attitude which proposals for unity are now receiving in Protestantism."

SUNDAY SERMON

Lutheran Pastor Repeats Paul's Warning On Grace

Be careful that you don't receive the "grace of God in vain," was St. Paul's warning reiterated by Rev. Fred C. Braunchweiger yesterday at Trinity Lutheran Church in San Rafael.

Pastor Braunschweiger's sermon-text or the first Sunday in Lent was taken from II Corinthians to describe God's grace as it is exemplified in the meaning of Easter.

"It may evade some how an individual's awareness of his sinfulness can in any way contribute to a more meaningful observance of Easter," declared the minister, "but others will come to the realization that this is God's way with men. By Good Friday every honest and discerning Christian is aware of his own and humanity's unlikeness to God. On Easter this same Christian stands ready to give God, and God only glory for a salvation purchased on a cross and proclaimed from an empty tomb.

There is an awareness that comes to such a person who has stood at the cross and before the empty tomb that he is acceptable to God not because he (the person) is lovable, nor because he appears lovely, but because God is love and has extended to him and every other human being His grace, His unmerited, measureless loving-kindness.

"This Grace of God is that which St. Paul offered the church at Corinth with the plea that the 'receive not the grace of God in vain.' What God did on Good Friday through the crucifixion of Jesus Christ and what He confirmed on Easter morning in the resurrection of our Lord are acts of God with which every man must reckon.

"A tragic mistake is made by the person who looks at the cross and salvation together with Easter and the resurrection only in terms of a possible future existance," asserted Rev. Braunschweiger.

"With such an approach to acts which spell out the Grace of God, the Grace of God will be received in vain. What God has done in history is intended to have perpetual significance, and only when we accept God's grace in terms of its present significance can it hold any future hope for us.

". . . There is no difficulty in subscribing to the earthy philosophy of living today for 'self', and barring air disasters, freeway accidents and atomic explosions, meeting God 'when I get things squared away.' It is imperative therefore, 'lest we receive the Grace of God in vain,' " concluded the pastor, "to take advantage of Lent during which we slacken our pace for a time, take stock of ourselves, and above all realize anew that the meeting has already taken place — between God and ourselves—on the cross outside Jerusalem not far from an empty tomb."

The meeting will be held at the Marines' Memorial Auditorium from 9:45 a.m. to noon.

Marin participants will be Mrs. Mercia Leton Kahn, Larkspur, district manager, Social Security Administration; Miss Florence Vickery, Sausalito, director, San Francisco Senior Center, and Mrs. Joseph Smith, San Rafael, staff member of Marin Council for Community Services.

All three were appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown as delegates to the conference held at the White House in January.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Hub Garage To Stock Used Cars; Realty Sales Show January Gain

Owners of Fontana Garage, 230 Greenfield Avenue, San Anselmo, who have been in business just a little more than a year (they bought out Gilboy Garage) have long considered using the showroom for a foreign car agency but have tarried making a decision.

Latest word from operators Eduardo Fontana and Anthony Dienies is that they will stock a line of used cars. Not just any old cars but repainted and reconditioned in their own shop, and guaranteed on engine and transmission. According to Ed Fontana, they'll look and act like new.

Mostly 1953-1955 American made models will be handled, but it may be a few days before any of them are completely ready to show.

INSURANCE BROKER Paul (Sonny) Grandjean who formerly had his offices at 106 G Street, San Rafael, has now joined forces with brokers Holtemann, Ord and Smith, 718A San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo. He'll still be servicing his former accounts.

MARIN REAL ESTATE sales in January through Multiple Listing Service made fair gains over a year ago in spite of what may have appeared to be slump indications.

Increase over January, 1960, ran 12.5 per cent—both in dollar volume and in number of listings sold.

EVIDENCE that California wines are making gains in public acceptance comes from final shipments figures for 1960 recently released by the Wine Advisory Board.

Shipments into all markets last year hit a new high with well over 129 million gallons—almost 4 per cent above 1959. In relation to the last five-year average the gain was 5.44 per cent.

Biggest gains were in table and sparkling wines. There was a slight drop in shipments of dessert wines (sherry, muscatel, port, etc.).

THE SUGGESTION BOX which perhaps got its biggest workout in industry during World War II, although it was in use long before then, is still a fertile source of new and improved ideas in many large plants and business firms.

The "award system" whereby employees submitting worthwhile suggestions are compensated according to savings in man-hours and dollars is generally the most successful.

A good example of the results from such a program is shown in the record of General Motors Corp. of 1960. Employees submitted 480,340 suggestions and one out of every four was accepted. Awards of $5,000 each were given to 44 employees; $1,000 awards went to 531.

This, of course, is an illustration of what can be done on a grand scale, but it bears consideration by Marin business firms with, say, 50 or more employees.

Surprisingly few suggestions are of the "blowing off steam" type. The stimulation of interest and creative thought in job improvement is a heavy by-product.

WHO CARES—as long as it's a man?

"I want to move from San Francisco to Marin County on the 20th," said the woman's voice excitedly on the telephone. "Can you do the job?"

"Yes, ma'am. We sure can," replied the local mover who received the call. "What is the name?"

"Er—I don't know."

"Beg pardon?"

"I mean I just got married and can't remember his name. But the address is . . ."

Search me. How should I know if SHE doesn't?

Dixie Trustee To Discuss Summer Plans

A proposed summer workshop for teachers will be discussed at the meeting of the Dixie School District trustees today at the district office, 4775 Redwood Highway at 8 p.m.

The meeting was originally scheduled for Wednesday but has been changed because of Washington's Birthday, announced Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

Summer assignments for principals and appointment of a summer school director will also be discussed.

The trustees are slated to authorize a call for bids on the Don Timoteo School and to set a date for the dedication of the Vallecito School.

The board will consider adopting a policy on student body funds and authorizing ground improvements at the Vallecito School.

Trustees will also consider authorizing inter-budgetary changes and sending two administrators to attend the Cubberly Conference in July.

Accountants Elected

Steen Schellenberg of 90 Melville Avenue and Wesley W. Honeyman of 160 Ridge Road, both San Anselmo, have been elected members of the San Francisco chapter of the National Assn. of Accountants.

San Rafael Again Eyes Highway Plan Tonight

Engineer Daniel Coleman's recommendations for expanding Highway 101 through San Rafael will be up for official action and discussion by the San Rafael City Council at its regular meeting 8 o'clock tonight in the city hall.

More than 130 persons packed the city council chambers last Tuesday for an informal public hearing on the San Francisco engineer's report, which includes adding four new lanes on the west side of the freeway.

The only major opposition came from Dominican area residents who protested a proposed off ramp at Linden Lane.

Also at tonight's meeting, a public hearing will be held on whether to give the planning commission architectural control over every new building in the city except single-family homes and duplexes.

The 10-year legal battle over ownership of the Miracle Mile is scheduled to pop up before the city council again. Under discussion will be a letter from S. J. Hugh Allen, attorney for the heirs of Highland Realty Co., which lays claim to an old railroad right of way along the street.

Allen indicated that an out-of-court settlement might be made with the cities of San Anselmo and San Rafael for $12,000.

The figure includes $2,000 for purchase of a five-foot easement (a drainage ditch along the eastbound section of Miracle Mile) which was not included in the lawsuits.

The San Rafael Beautiful Committee will ask the council to accept cash donations from merchants for buying trees in concrete containers for downtown streets, and to maintain the trees.

Chief Building Inspector Andrew Thomas will make his recommendation on whether a fulltime plumbing inspector should be hired. Orlando Conti, plumbing contractor and San Rafael planning commissioner, asked the council to create such a position.

Three Marinites On Training Ship

Three midshipmen from Marin County are aboard the Golden Bear, training ship of the California Maritime Academy, which is making a two-month Pacific Ocean cruise as part of the three-year course.

Douglas Finley and Tony E. Pittsey of San Rafael and David M. Winter of Kentfield are among 219 midshipmen and 16 officers who left Vallejo Jan. 19 for visits to Tahiti, Pago Pago, Suva, Hilo, Honolulu, San Diego, Long Beach and Port Hueneme.

The ship will return to the academy March 24.

Day Of Outstanding Values Is Planned

The fact George Washington never told a lie is to be borne out at the Corte Madera Shopping Center tomorrow, according to Bob Guelld, promotion manager of the center.

Guelld said all the 30-some stores and services of the huge regional shopping center, Marin County's one-stop shopping outlet, will combine to promote an "outstanding value event for the one day." Bargains that are "never to be duplicated" will be presented by the stores, with an added incentive of night shopping tomorrow night.

In connection with the event, many of the stores will have special bargains for the Tuesday night opening, Guelld said. In addition, many "one of a kind" items will be sold to the first come, first served. These will include lawnmowers, toys, clothes, plants and other items.

Kicking off the heavy promotional schedule of the regional center, Corte Madera Shopping Center is making plans for a promotional event in May, Guelld said, and will present an "outstanding" merchandising and promotional event each month during the rest of 1961.

With every type of service, and stores carrying a wide selection of merchandise, the Corte Madera Shopping Center is Marin County's sole complete one-stop shopping mecca for people from Stinson Beach to San Quentin; from Sausalito to Novato and draws heavily from as far north as Petaluma.

Stores comprising the Corte Madera Shopping Center include Montgomery Ward, J. C. Penney, F. W. Woolworth, W. T. Grant, Jay Vee shops, Anita's, Thrifty Drugs, Littleman Market, Zim's, First National Bank, Mam'selle Beauty Salon, Corte Madera Shoe Repair Center, Herbert's Sherbet, Dr. S. Kumata, optometrist; Lady Baltimore Bakery, Peerless Laundry, Martin and Harris appliances, Kramar's Shoes, Junior Junction children's shoes, Harmony Music Center, Kerns and Walker dry cleaning, Hollie Smith State Farm Insurance, Louis George men's store, Eric Mathias, Swiss watchmaker; Jerry Jones Chevron station, John Friend Union Oil, Bob's of Marin and the Edgewater Inn.

Construction on building C is slated to begin within the next month, bringing additional stores to the huge center.

Touching Reunion Made In City Hall

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—"It was touching to find a loved one after so many years," said James J. Lancaster of Raleigh after a reunion with a cousin he hadn't seen in 41 years.

Lancaster and his cousin, Luther Williford of Rt. 1, Willow Springs, were reunited in the Wake County jail. Lancaster was charged with public drunkenness and Williford with public drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Grant Store New Manager Is Announced

J. T. Sullivan, district manager of the W. T. Grant Co., announced yesterday a change in the managership of the Grant store in Corte Madera shopping center, effectively immediately.

Adrian Taylor, who has been manager for the past 18 months, has been transferred to the new W. T. Grant outlet in Bozeman, Mont.

Les Beardsley has been moved to Corte Madera from Sacramento, where he was assistant manager.

Beardsley and his wife will reside in Corte Madera.

Italy Mayor Commutes From Brazil

SCHIGNANO, Italy (UPI)—The mayor of this Alpine village left home, told his wife not to wait for him at lunch time and headed for the city hall—just 7,500 miles away.

Commuters who complain of the distance between their homes and offices probably wouldn't envy Aurelio Gelpi, mayor of this village of 1,200 in the Intelvi Valley, only a few miles from deep blue Lake Como.

Gelpi makes a 12-hour trip aboard a jet airliner from Sao Paulo, Brazil, where he became a wealthy building contractor after emigrating there several decades ago, every time he comes to his office here.

The mayor, a strongly built man with a winning smile, admitted he cannot be expected to sit in his office here every weekday.

"But I hope I can come here at least twice every month," he promised his voters.

In a four-year term, air tickets from Sao Paulo to Milan and back are expected to cost him about 40 million lire ($64,000) which he pays out his own pocket.

The first citizen of this lonely village was elected to his job without any campaigning.

Votes carrving his name poured into the ballot box in November. Other candidates, who had campaigned vigorously, suffered a humiliating defeat.

The mayor was the only person who did not know he was elected. Italian Post and Telegraph. Minister E. Spallino, who married one of his nieces, broke the announcement to Gelpi in a cable to Sao Paulo.

"Who? Me?" Stop kidding," the new mayor of Schignano said.

But it was not a hoax. Gelpi boarded a plane and arrived to tell his voters he was flattered but could not accept the job.

"But Schignano would plunge into an unprecedented political crisis if you refuse," the village solons told him.

Gelpi was unable to withdraw and stayed in office.

"I cannot betray the village where I was born," he said.

Even before the election Gelpi was the most popular man in town. He built a new road, repaired the local cemetery and carried out a number of expensive public works with his own money.

Local hopes soared after he accepted the job. The inhabitants realized he had to handle his own business in Brazil and told him he could come here "whenever he wanted."

Gelpi decided to come here at least twice every month, to stay in his mayor's office for a few days and then fly back to Sao Pauo. But something worried him about his monthly trips.

"It not the distance," he explained, "but transportation from Malpensa Airport, 30 miles northwest of Milan, to Schignano is a real trouble in wintertime. Planes are frequently diverted to Turin and even to Zurich, Switzerland, and it takes me more time from the airport to here than from Sao Paulo to Europe."

Gaslight Era Coming Back Across Nation

NEW YORK (UPI) — The new Gaslight Era has caught on so well in the last four years that there are twice as many gas street lamps in the United States today as there were in 1914 — the peak year of the old Gaslight Era.

The southern New Jersey ocean resort of Cape May is the latest city to adopt gaslights to replace electric street lamps for its four-block business district. Cape May town officials ordered 30 gas lamps for aesthetic reasons — to harmonize with their business district's Victorian architecture, which they intend to preserve.

The American Gas Association (AGA) helped the new Gaslight Era get started in 1957 at Albuquerque, N.M., also for aesthetic reasons — to preserve Albuquerque's charming Old Town as a tourist attraction.

The gas association didn't know then the idea would catch on so fast.

Gas street lamps put in use in the past years are more than twice the 300,000 that lighted the cities of the country in 1914.

Many of the lamps put up recently are old veterans moved from other locations or old warehouses.

But the demand for street lights and for indoor gas lamps to go with period decorated rooms has mushroomed so that 21 manufacturers are turning them out and some are being imported from England. They are being made in factories all the way from New England to Texas to South Dakota and Honolulu.

Among the cities that have put new gas street lamps in certain districts are Pittsburgh, New York City — in the famous Worth Street textile district — Lake George, N.Y., Little Rock — on the State Capitol Mall and on "furniture row" in Little Rock's business district — St. Augustine, Fla., and many smaller towns. New Jersey has the most residential districts with gas lights.

"There are a few urban districts in the country where the first Gaslight Era never ended," said a spokesman for the AGA. "They've been lighting some of their streets with gas all along."

The Welsbach Co., maker of the famous Welsbach gas lamp mantle, installed the Cape May lamps on short standards so they could shed their glow underneath the spreading boughs of the town's many big trees.

The short standards reminded folks of the lamplighter of 50 years ago — the chap who made the rounds each evening, either on horseback or carrying a ladder and a special pole torch for lighting the street lamps.

But today's gas lamps need no lamplighter — they have tiny pilot lights and automatic time switches.
